FOREWORD

In the life of each of us,
there are those moments which remain forever illumined. . . . At times reality yields to nostalgia and the present bows to reverie. As we find ourselves drifting into reminiscence, we endeavor to share these treasured memories by focusing our

SPOTLIGHT ON HUNTINGTON -- 1965

Dedication

THEODORE T. ROLLINS

Little can be said to express adequately the heartfelt sorrow that we shared in the death of our beloved Mr. Theodore T. Rollins. He was an inspiration to the entire student body and was loved greatly by his fellow teachers.

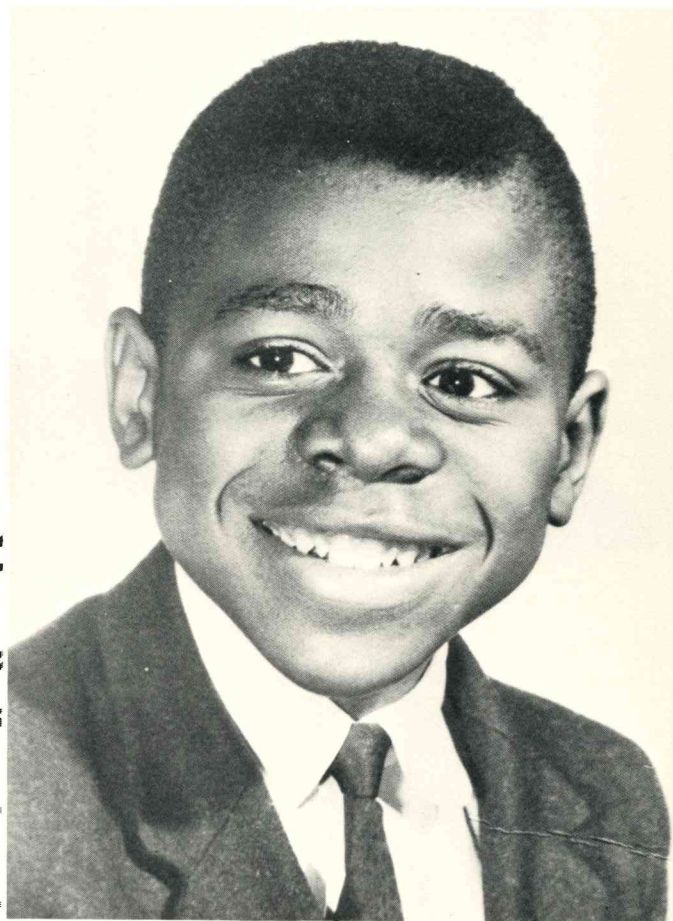

His memory will occupy a special place in our hearts forever. The Class of 1965 is proud to dedicate posthumously the HUNTINGTONIAN to him.

ETHEL TONKINS

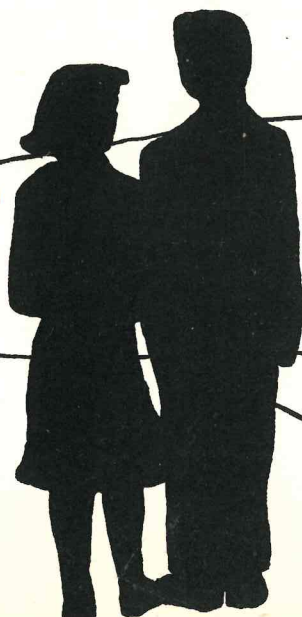

"THEY SHALL NOT GROW OLD AS WE
THAT ARE LEFT GROW OLD: AGE
SHALL NOT WEARY THEM NOR THE YEARS CONDEMN. AT THE GOING DOWN OF THE SUN AND IN THE MORNING WE WILL REMEMBER THEM."

IN MEMORIAM

JOHN G. HARRIS

As a fond mother, when the day
is o'er,
Leads by the hand her little child to bed,
Half willing, half reluctant to be led,
And leave his broken playthings on the floor,
Still gazing at them through the open door,
Nor wholly reassured and comforted
By promises of others in their stead,
Which, though more splendid, may not please him more;
So Nature deals with us, and takes away
Our playthings one by one, and by the hand
Leads us to rest so gently, that we go
Scarce knowing if we want to go or stay,
Being too full of sleep to understand
How far the unknown transcends the what we know.

-- Longfellow

Softly the stars are gleaming
Upon a precious grave,
Where sleepeth without dreaming
One we loved but could not save.

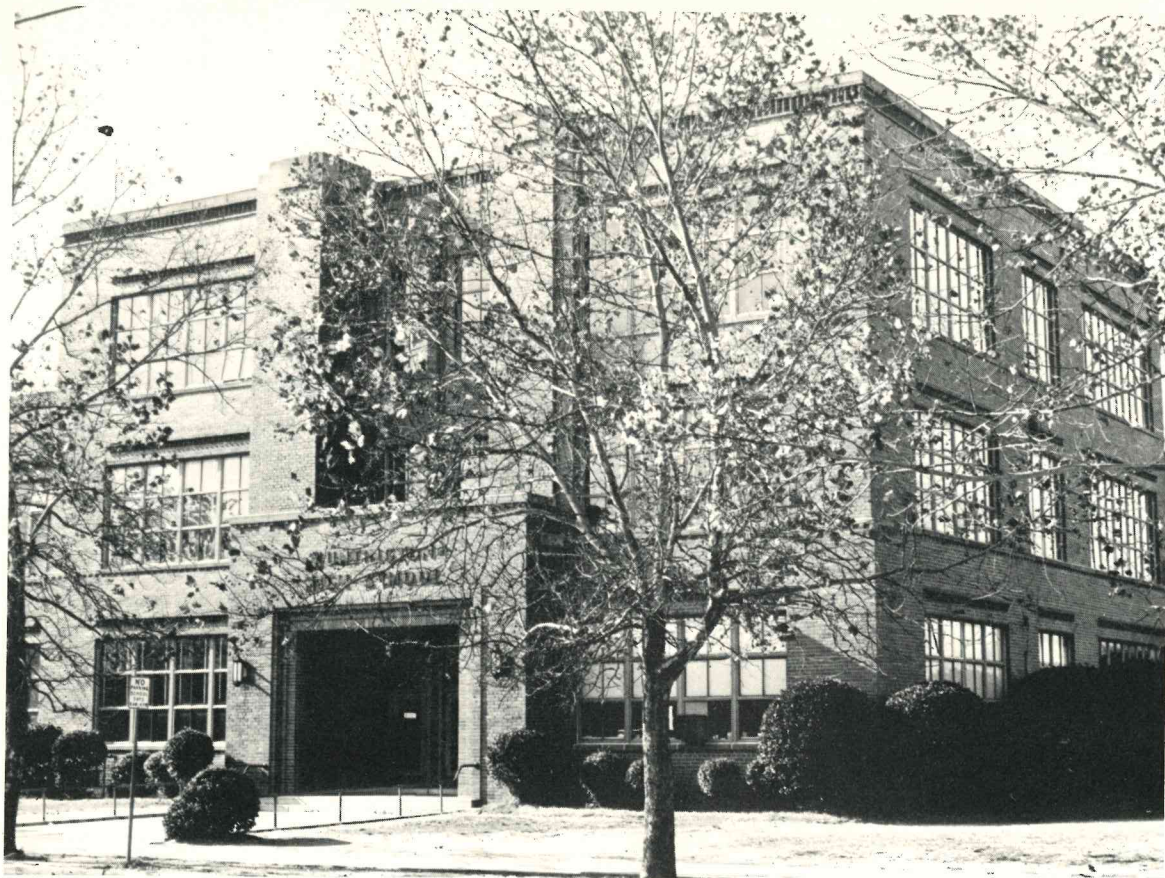

He bade no one a last farewell,
He said good-bye to none,
His loving heart had ceased to beat
Before we knew he had gone.

God gave us strength to face it,
And courage to bear the blow;
And what it meant to lose him,
No one but God will ever know.

OLD MAIN ENTRANCE

A GROWING HUNTINGTON

With the ever-increasing enrollment in the schools of today, it becomes even more important that adequate provisions be made to meet the demands of the society. Huntington, in fulfilling its educational obligation, has stretched her boundaries from 30th to 35th Street and from Orcutt to Wickham.

COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENTS.

SHIPYARD COMMUNITY CENTER

THE BOYS' GYMNASIUM

Adjacent to each other are the physical education plants. Completed this school year, the boys' gymnasium provides ample locker space for physical education classes and for the athletic program.

The girls' gymnasium (left), on the other hand, houses the ICT and DE class rooms.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The success of any school system is the result of a progressive and capable leadership.

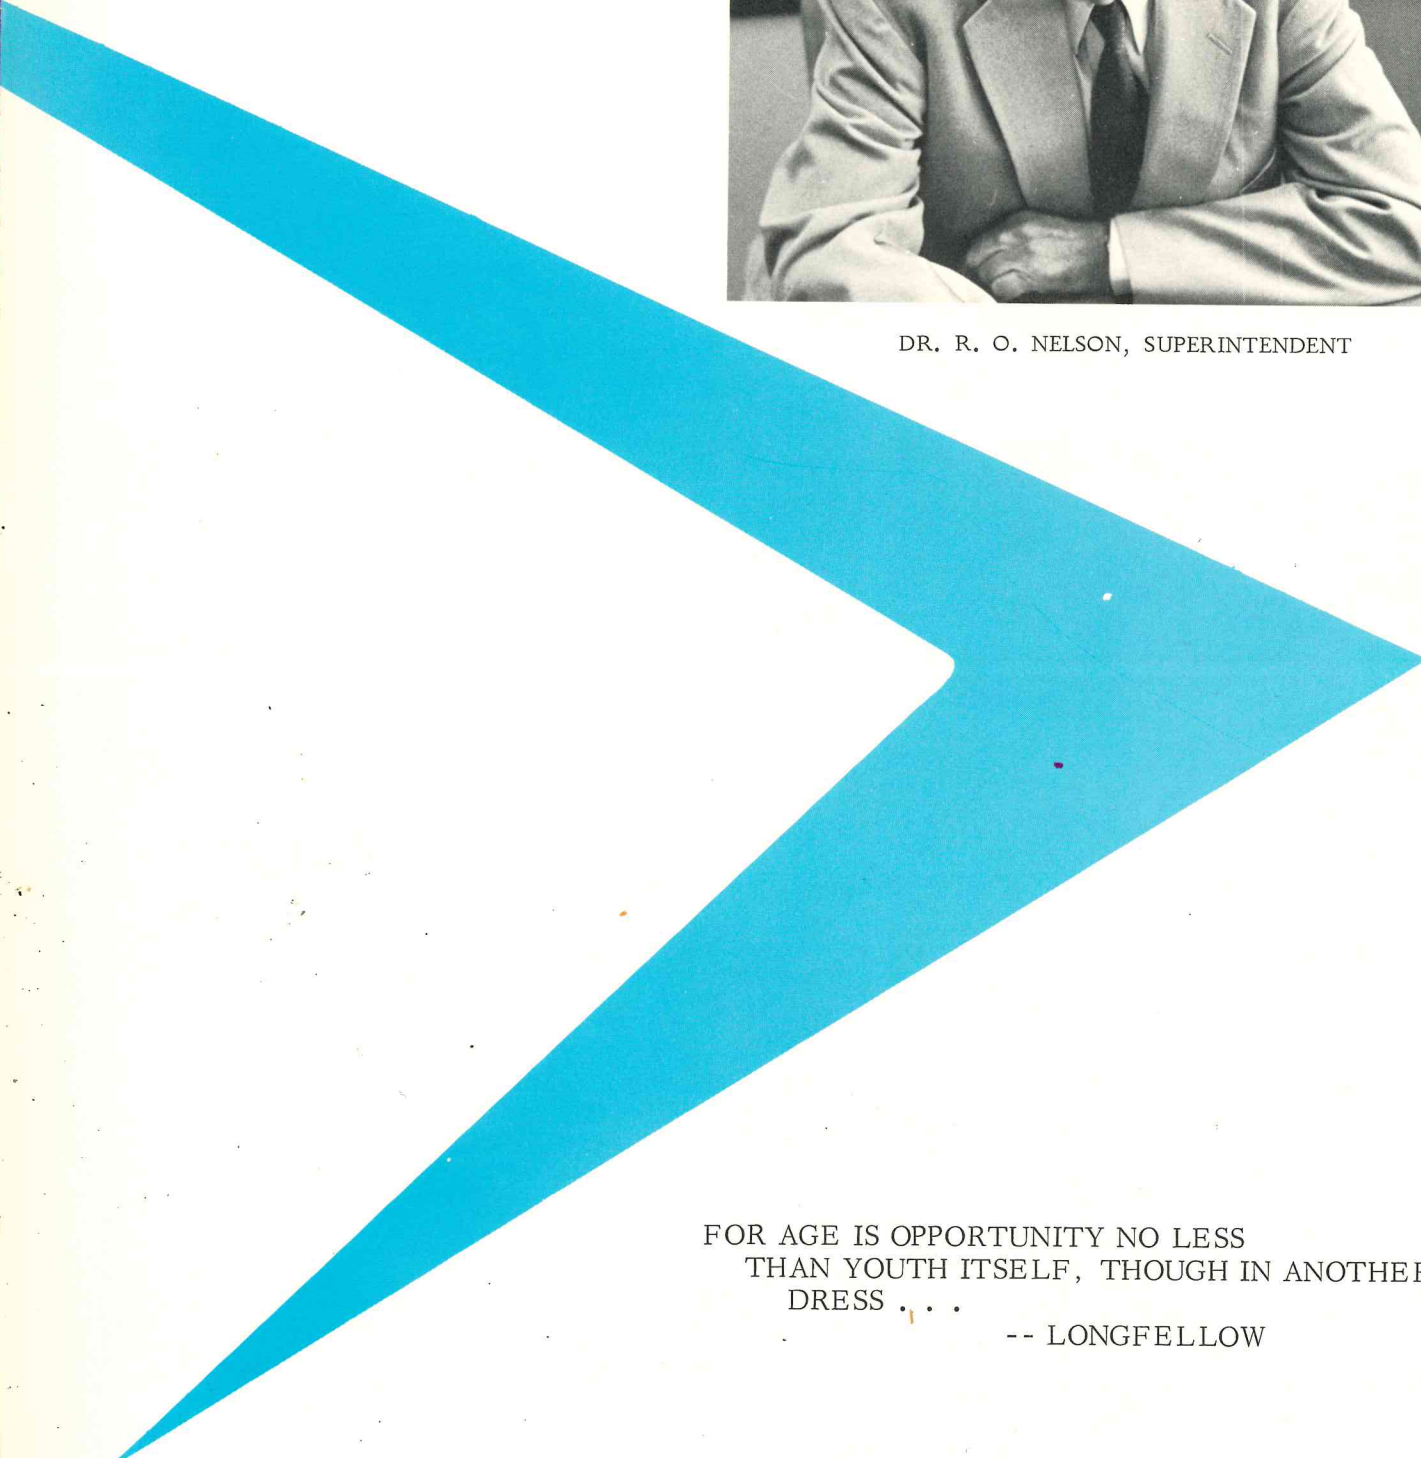

The Newport News School Board consists of men who are dedicated to the proper maintenance and administration of the city's many schools.

Mr. Ward, R. Scull, Mr. Gordon, F. Pullen, Dr. J. T. Jobe, III, Mr. J. M. Dozier, Mr. Richard Newman, Dr. C. Waldo Scott, Dr. W. T. Watkins, Jr.

THE ROLES OF AN ADMINISTRATOR

MR. W. D. SCALES

Presiding over a committee meeting composed of faculty and members from the community, Mr. Scales expresses a point which is vital to all concerned.

THE PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Members of the Class of 1965:

It is most gratifying to extend greetings to you on your graduation day. All persons who contributed to your development have ample reason to rejoice with you. Today you join hands with a multitude of other boys and girls who are completing their secondary education and to whom society must look to do the work of the world.

We are living in an extraordinary age, requiring extraordinary thinking and extraordinary application in order to effect the creativity and freshness of ideas success demands. Yours is the age of challenge and change. Never before has there been such a diverse and exciting array of trades and professions to stimulate achievement. Never before have schools and the general public evidenced a greater awareness in the worth of education by virtually underwriting the cost for all who would further their training. Never before has there been such a variety of opportunities available to you nor more stringent requirements made of those who would seize them. Never before has there been a greater need for men of thought, industry, and dedication.

How you can best develop and use your talents must be your searching question now. Your fulfillment is contingent upon translating into action the many truths you have learned here. Endeavor to attain an appreciable degree of excellence in some area of competence that you may build a fortress against frustrations, fears, and failures. Determine what worthwhile goal you would realize and elect to give to its pursuit the perseverance success demands.

You carry with you our fondest good wishes. We trust your future will be fashioned from the council of The Great Teacher.

ADMINISTRATING

Writing recommendations, conferring with parents, and maintaining a competent staff are but a very few of the cumbersome responsibilities which weigh upon the office of an administrator. Mr. Scales uses the intercom to contact one of the offices at the other end of the yards and yards of corridor.

DEDICATING

With enraptured faces, eager students and other spectators await the first play of the game. The throng of spectators roar enthusiastically as Mr. W. D. Scales rolls the basketball onto the floor, thus opening the 1964-65 basketball season.

OFFICIATING

Of his reserved honors, crowning Miss Homecoming is one which Mr. Scales cherishes.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

Having a helper makes matters go more smoothly for Mr. C. C. Johnson, Assistant Principal. Arranging schedules for teachers and students, managing the curricular offerings, and attending problems concerning school discipline are among the many responsibilities that encumber an assistant principal in a high school of over two thousand students.

Christine Spratley, an Industrial Cooperative training student, and Mr. Johnson begin the day's work by checking the principal's list for students needing class admission slips.

Case stated, conference over, admission slip granted.

GUIDANCE IS HER FORTE

Mrs. Effie M. Green confers with hundreds of students weekly in an effort to help them adjust to the situation of education, solve problems, and answer the many questions which plague the adolescent mind. Administering tests and keeping student records are additional guidance duties which are discharged by Mrs. Green, Assistant Principal, Guidance Director, and Dean of Girls. Functioning as Dean of Girls, Mrs. Green provides in her office a place of consolation for girls with problems peculiar to them.

Animated, yet poised, Mrs. Green takes time out from her busy schedule to share a bit of her wisdom during lunch.

THE SECRETARIAL STAFF

Answering the telephone, taking dictation, and making reports for the school are but a few of Mrs. V. James' many tasks.

This, too, makes for an efficient secretary.

MAIL CALL
Because of the ensuing Christmas mail rush, Mrs. B. Seabron must be certain that the mail for the faculty does not pile up. In addition to taking time for mail distribution, Mrs. Seabron serves as the clerk in charge of transcripts.

Mrs. H. Lawson concentrates upon the hundreds of federal forms and pupil affidavits which must be completed and filed in the office of the school board.

After all money is collected by the teacher, it is given to Mrs. L. Kea, the bookkeeper. She, in turn, takes it to the bank where it is deposited.

Every penny must be counted with accuracy.

Mrs. B. Seabron
Mrs. L. Kea

AMMONIA . . . ASPIRIN . . . ASSURANCE . . .

Nurse Holloway meets many patients during the course of the day. She listens sympathetically to complaints which range from headaches to fingers stuck in test tubes. Her quiet manner and engaging smile soon let the ailing student know that she is his friend and is willing to help.

Our expanded facilities enable Nurse Holloway to administer to more students' needs than in previous years. In such clean surroundings, who could help but feel better?

Shirley Stokes, a senior, comes to Nurse Holloway for counseling on such topics as physical or mental hygiene.

ENGLISH

The English Department at Huntington is the core of communicative activities. In addition to encouraging the improvement of skills in reading comprehension, the department strives to promote good speaking and writing habits among the student body. That English is required of all students during their five year stay at Huntington is further evidence of the department's infinite effort to stress good verbal grooming.

Mr. Calloway, completing his third year as departmental chairman, uses his time to make preparations for his classes and English meetings in the newly acquired English office. Having distinguished himself as a competent teacher, he finds much pleasure in serving as adviser to Seniors.

A DOLLAR A DAY

Mrs. Holman takes time out from copy writing, proofreading, and other manifestations of producing a quality newspaper to attend to financial affairs.

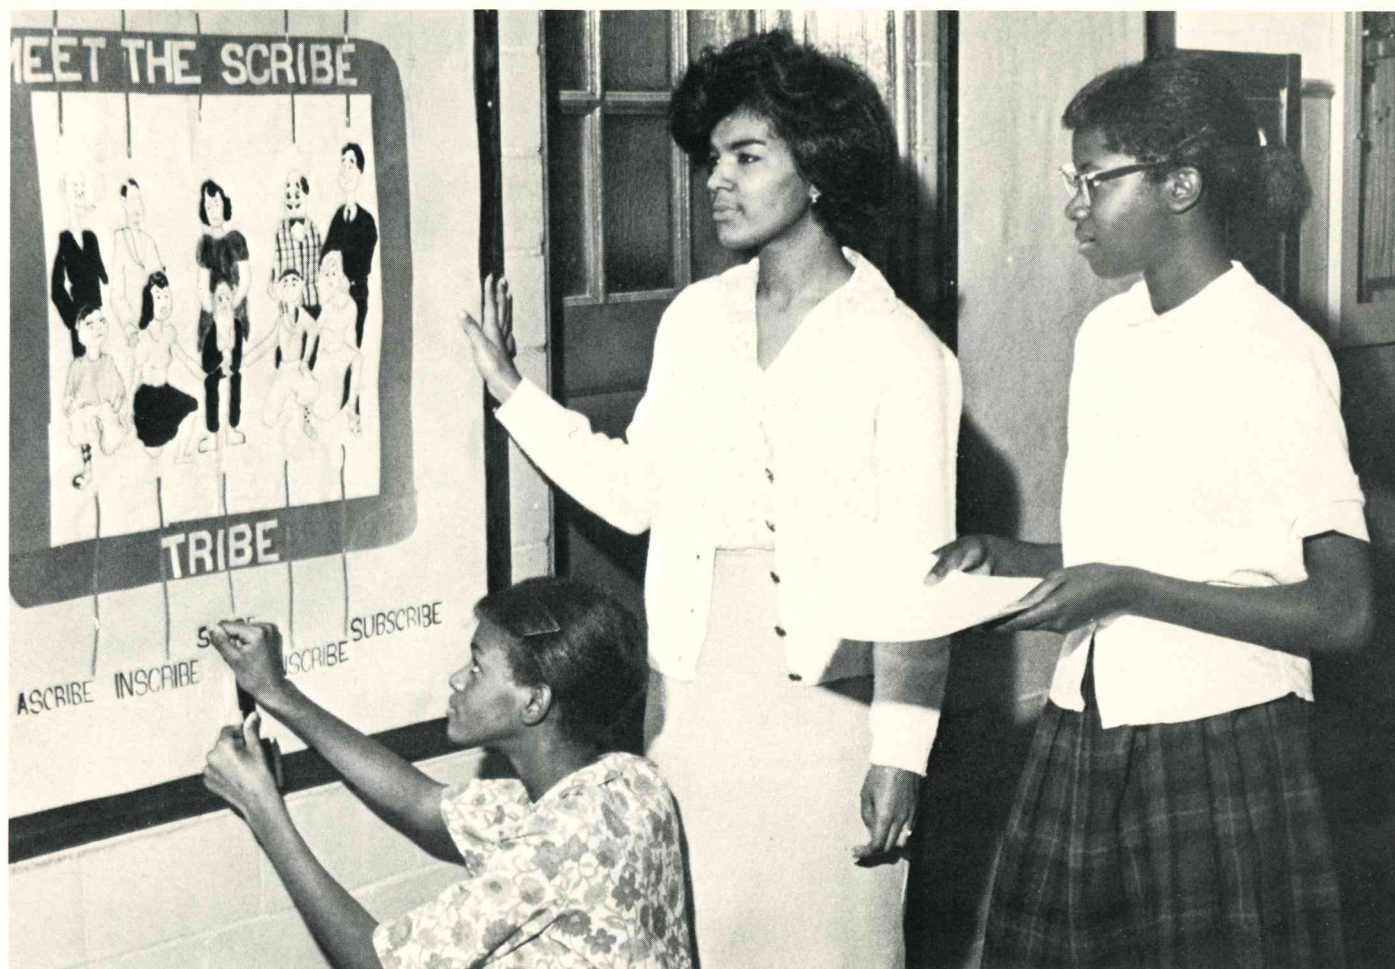

MRS. PATRICIA H. HOLMAN

MISS ELLA BAKER

MRS. W. SANTIFUL

Among the number of new teachers added to the Huntington faculty is Miss D. Feaster, who pauses between classes to supervise a project showing a phase of grammar's importance and value. Engaged in this project are Linda Stokes (Kneeling) and Brenda Burton.

MISS KAREN L. WILSON

MR. C. H. JONES

MISS SANDRA KING

THE BUSINESS AT HAND
Sponsor of the debating team, Mrs. Haltiwanger pursues her task of developing sound logic in her students' thinking and speaking.

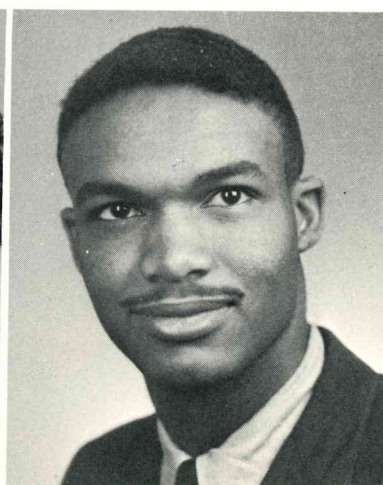

MISS L. L. JONES

INVITATION TO KNOWLEDGE
Miss L. L. Jones, in one of her typical moments of joy, anticipates the arrival of her students.

MRS. EVA FLEMING

MR. GERALD BLAKENEY

MISS DOROTHY THOMAS
MRS. LOUISE GARRETT

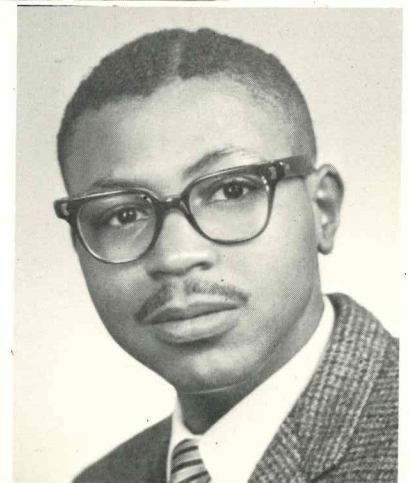

Miss Thomas proves that teaching offers many opportunities for versatility.

MISS ELSIE GRAHAM

MR. WILLIAM B. THOMAS

Aside from teaching, Mr. W. B. Thomas works closely with the Principal in producing a creditable yearbook.

MR. DAVID T. LAWRENCE

TIME OUT

At the kick-off game of the 1964-65 basketball season, Mrs. Grandberry and Miss L. L. Jones, far removed from their classes, take time out to relax after the last minute rush of the maddening crowds.

The beginning of a new foreign language program, equipped with all the modern teaching conveniences, necessitates a competent teaching staff. Mr. Lawrence, Spanish teacher, and Mrs. Grandberry, instructor in French, test the equipment for effectiveness.

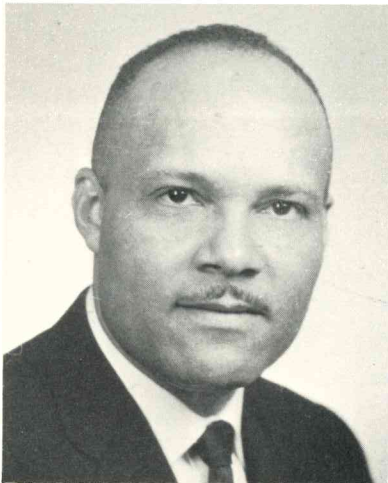

MRS. N. GRANDBERRY

MR. CLAUDE N. CARTER

REV. PRESTON HAYES

MRS. EDITH S. BLAND

SOCIAL STUDIES

Economics, World Geography, and Social Problems are but a few of the electives which come under the auspices of the Social Studies Department and which are available to all students at Huntington. Designed to foster a greater appreciation of international, national, and community affairs, the department is headed by Mr. Claude N. Carter.

The multifacet role of the social science instructor does not end at the termination of the school day. Rev. Hayes, newly elected president of the PTA, discusses the importance of good community-school relations with Mr. Scales and Rev. W. R. Wisner.

Mrs. L. Lipscombe, who is instructor of social problems, directs students toward the unlimited realms of opportunities by remaining in school. Working with student problems provides her with an appreciation of her classroom work in her social problems class.

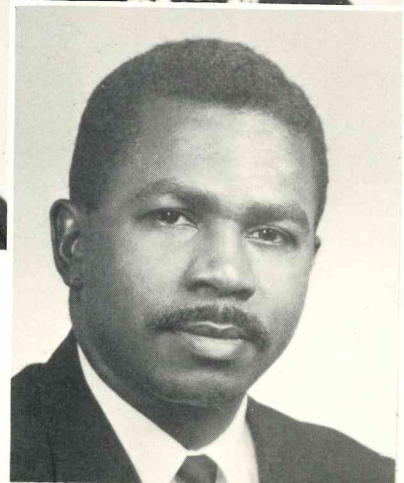

Social studies teachers are a prone to catch the flu bug too. Mr. Hearst takes preventative steps against the plague.

TURKEY TALK

Mr. J. Woods and Mr. D. Lawrence engage in a bit of turkey talk, as they await the arrival of the next class.

MRS. MAMYE BACOTE
MR. DAVID BARR

MRS. MADELYN C. WOODS

SCIENCE

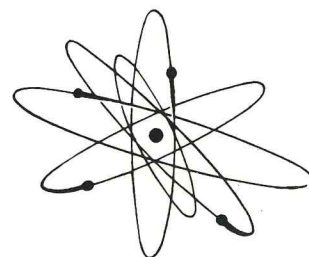

Science, under the chairmanship of Miss I. B. Perry, extends from the area of Earth Science to the complexity of Physics. The courses which fall between these subjects are also geared to the enabling of students to understand scientific occurrences and influences in their environment.

MISS I. B. PERRY

MR. HOWARD ALSTON

A SNEAK PREVIEW

Mr. Alston, in the confines of his audio-visual office, finds biology of the day. With all audio-visual aids distributed, Mr. Alston retreats to his nook to review for the next class.

Though not a romantic or western movie, the film which Mrs. Braxton is showing provokes scientific curiosity and comprehension of scientific phenomena never before understood by man.

Mrs. Braxton, one of the recent additions to the Huntington family, gives accurate account of her students by a daily check of attendance.

MR. AUSTIN STITT

MRS. CATHERINE BRAXTON

MR. TURNER M. SPENCER

MRS. CAROL B. McFERRIN

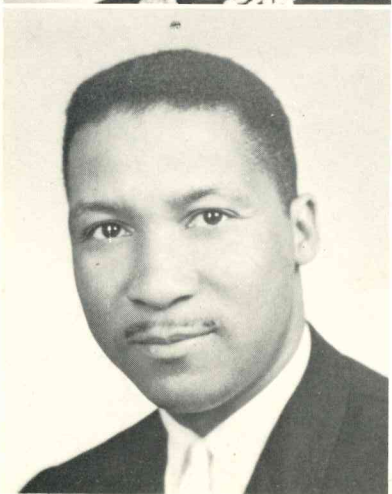

While not washing her hands of the importance of science in our daily lives, Miss Fortune does emphasize the importance of cleanliness as a necessary quality in any successful scientific experiment.

MISS GLADYS FORTUNE

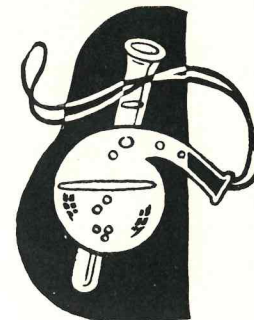

MISS T. C. HARRIS

MR. BRUCE McLEOD

Aroused by the challenge of which science offers, Mr. McLeod stresses his point to his students quite emphatically.

TEACHERS MUST STUDY TOO

Mr. W. H. Holmes engages in deep contemplative study in the silence of the library. In addition to serving as an excellent chemistry teacher whom students at Huntington hold in the highest esteem, Mr. Holmes is an active participant in the athletic program, serving as athletic director.

MR. WILBUR HOLMES

MRS. FANNIE KING

MR. JOHN HARRIS

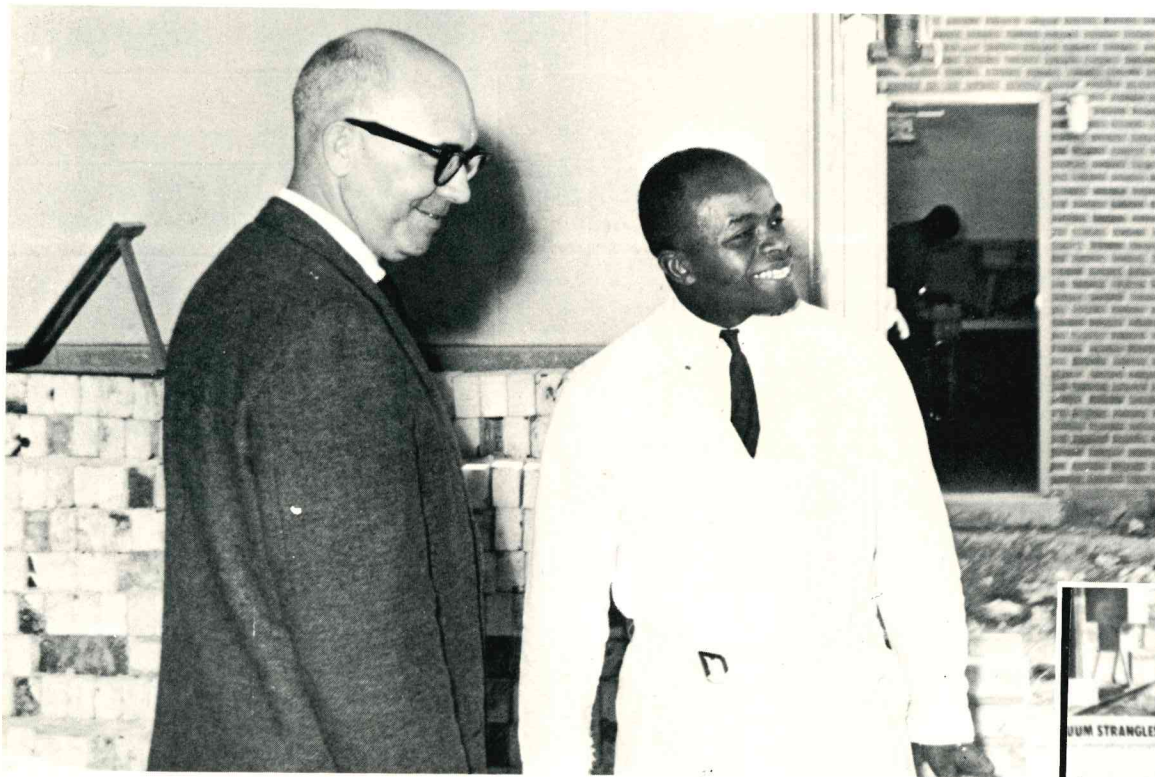

MR. JOHN T. BROWN

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Augmenting the program of offerings in the Vocational Education department, Distributive Education offers on-the-job training in selling skills.

In spite of the technological progress, the students of Huntington still learn the aesthetic value of handmade objects.

In a moment of delight, Mr. Brown, chairman of the Vocational Education department, acquaints Mr. G. Pullen with the equipment in the department and the various student projects.

Under the direction of Mr. W. Lewis, Thomas Fauntleroy creates a blueprint of a modern house.

MR. RALPH McGHEE

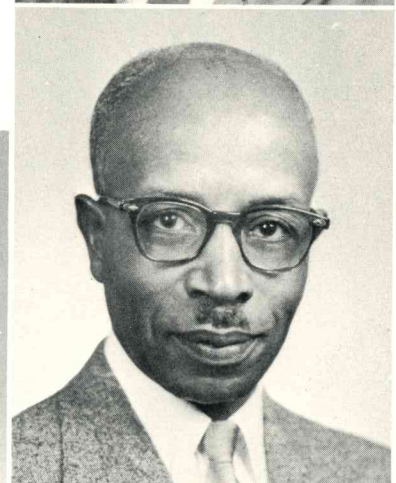

MR. ROSS HINES

MR. CHURCHILL ROBINSON

Proficient in the field of industrial arts, Mr. Hale points out the pitfalls of faulty soldering.

MR. JAMES HALE

MR. WILLIAM LEWIS

MR. W. L. JONES

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION

Consisting of courses in general business, typing, bookkeeping, and shorthand, the commercial Education department endeavors to prepare interested students to meet the standard set up by business establishments throughout the country.

Automation, electric typewriters, and classes conducted on TV are fine, but what happens when the machine gets stuck? Mr. Royster is on hand to relieve any apprehensions which Connie Carter might have.

MRS. CELESTINE WYNDER

MRS. C. M. HINES

MRS. THELMA M. JONES

Miss Haltiwanger harkens to one of the many questions put before her by students.

Exam time has arrived, and Mrs. Hines warms up the mimeograph machine for the action ahead.

MR. J. ROYSTER

MISS RHODA HALTIWANGER

Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Braxton work as a team to enliven the special program with meaningful posters and bulletin board displays.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

The special education classes at Huntington are designed for the education of students whose needs cannot be adequately met in regular classes. This program recognizes the fact that the goals of education for these pupils must be in keeping with their capacities, limitations, and interests. The major concern is training for participation in the occupational world.

The classes seek further to develop the individual as a well integrated personality and a good citizen and to discover his strengths and weaknesses.

MRS. VERA PERRY

MRS. PEARL C. BRAXTON

MRS. VIRGIE J. COBB

HOME ECONOMICS

The home, still the basis of a wholesome community, receives many of its skillful trainees from the Huntington Home Economics department. In spite of frozen foods and TV dinners, girls learn that home cooked meals best provide the vital nutrients for a healthy family.

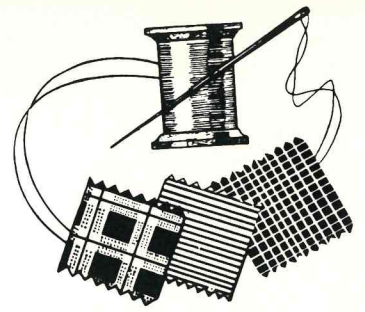

Many of the girls find that by making their own clothes that they save money for other necessities as well as some luxuries.

Mrs. Cobb makes final adjustments before she begins to cut the material.

OBSERVATION
 Celestine Green, Janie Bazemore, and Barbara Chatman observe Mrs. Lucas as she demonstrates the how-to's of sewing.

MRS. ORA DAWKINS

MRS. HATTIE T. LUCAS

MRS. A. T. CARTER

MRS. MARY O. PALMER

Mrs. Carter adjusts and pins the pattern to the fabric to insure an attractively fitting finished product.

MATHEMATICS

Mathematics of today involves many more operations than those utilized just a decade ago. Today we are working with electronic computers. We are engaged in space travel and other mathematical and scientific projects which require and use some of the very best minds in the country.

Our Mathematics department, chaired by Miss L. M. Weaver, prepares us for these mathematical necessities.

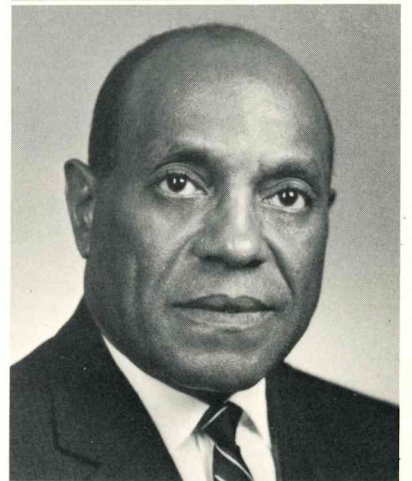

MISS LILLIAN M. WEAVER

Lesson plans are the order of the day for Miss Weaver.

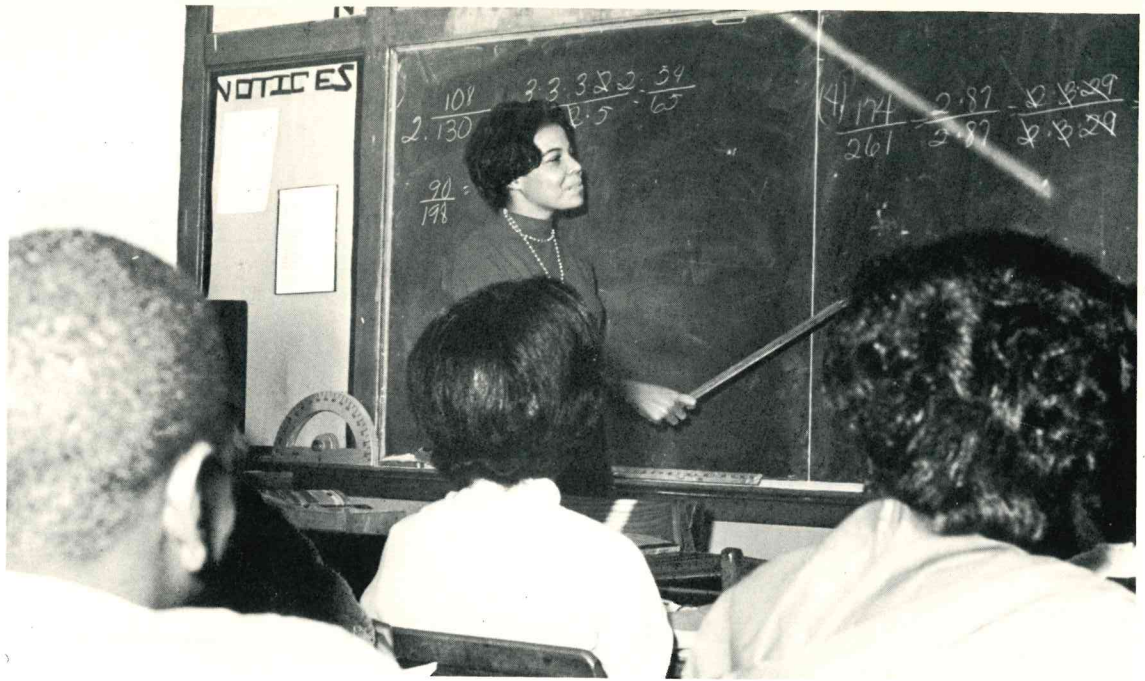

One of the few teachers who were compelled to change rooms in the renovation of Huntington, Mrs. Harrell summons the pupils' attention to a mathematical enigma.

MISS BETTYE GARRICK
MR. NOEL J. PLEASANT
MRS. EVELYN BRYANT

Mr. Pleasant is aware that a gesture or two may be helpful in putting across the correct mathematical idea.

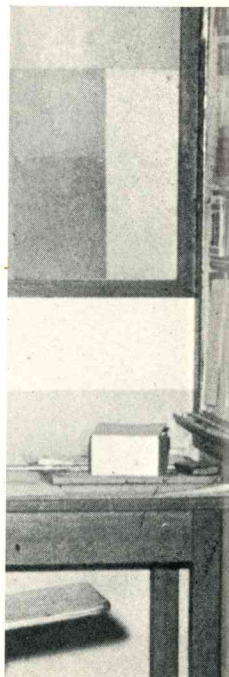

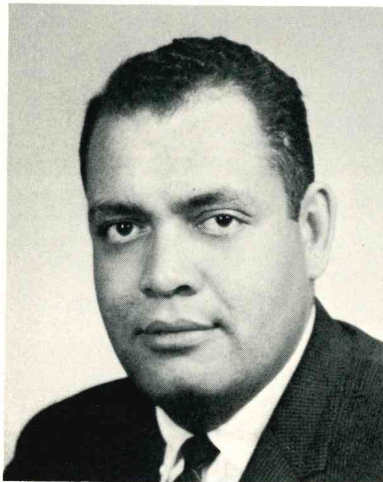

As the ray of light beams upon the blackboard, so Miss Malloy beams over the job which she performs in enlightening her students.

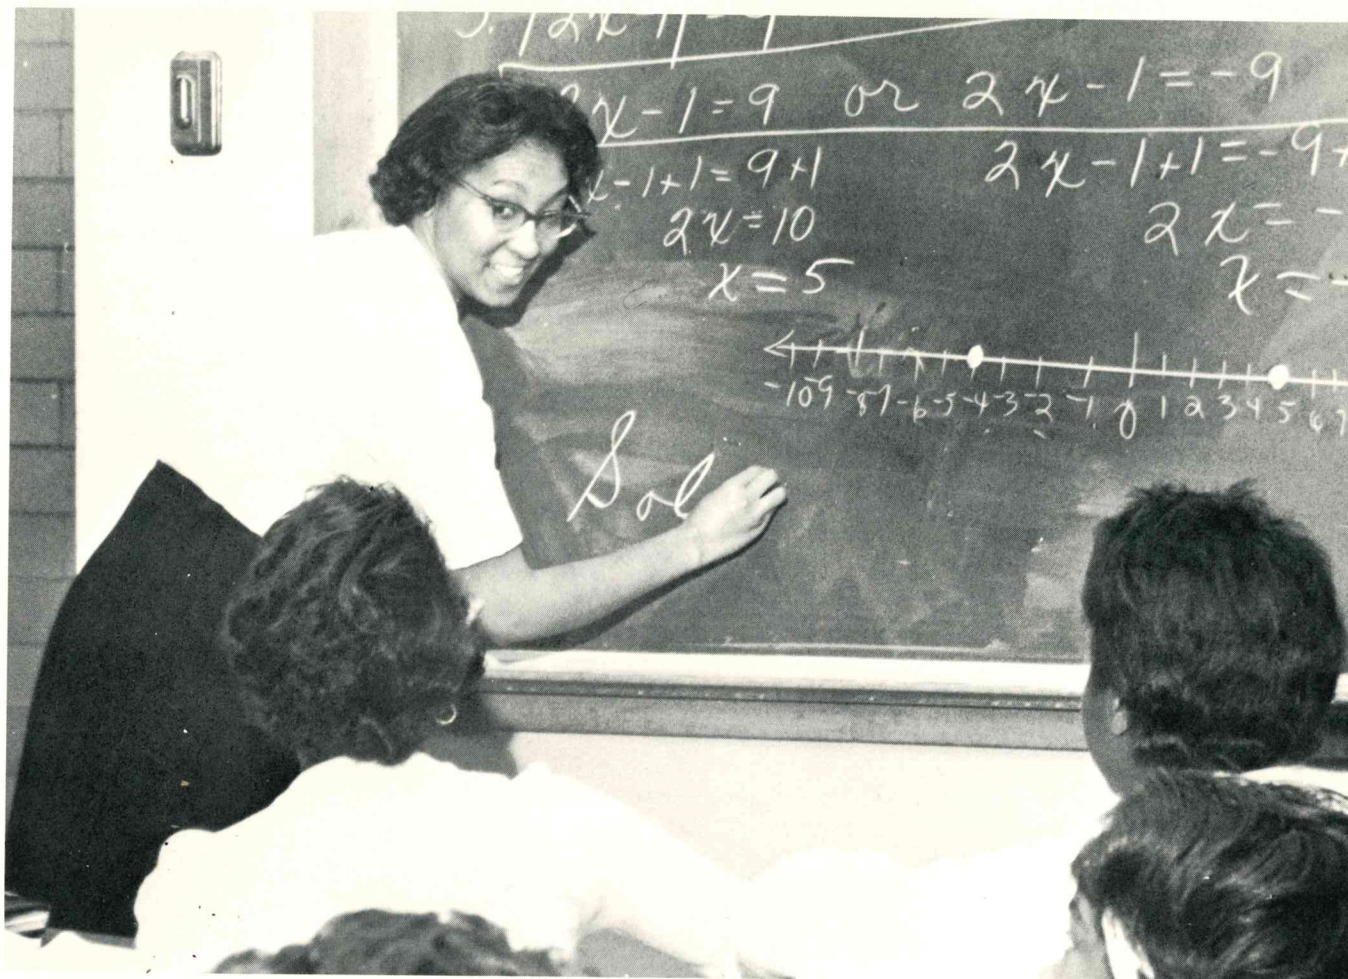

MR. JOSEPH SPENCER

MISS C. MALLOY

MR. JULIAN BAKER

Many situations are created outside the classroom. Mr. B. Horne takes time out for a valuable moment, while Mr. Spencer supervises the bus loading at 3:35.

The blackboard, an essential instrument in the comprehension of mathematical skills of a classroom, tells the story of the proper solving of equations. Mrs. Lawrence (above) and Miss Smith (below), long time members of the Huntington teaching staff, do not take their task lightly and proceed to expound upon mathematical theories and facts.

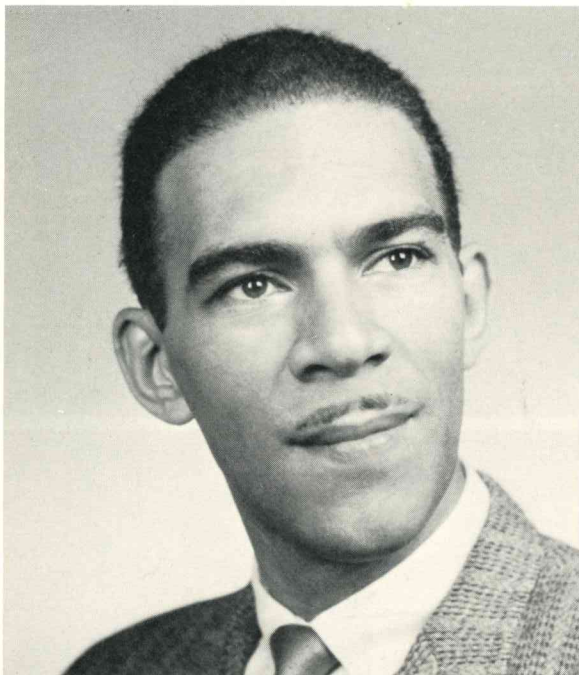

MISS MABEL SMITH

MRS. FRANCES E. LAWRENCE

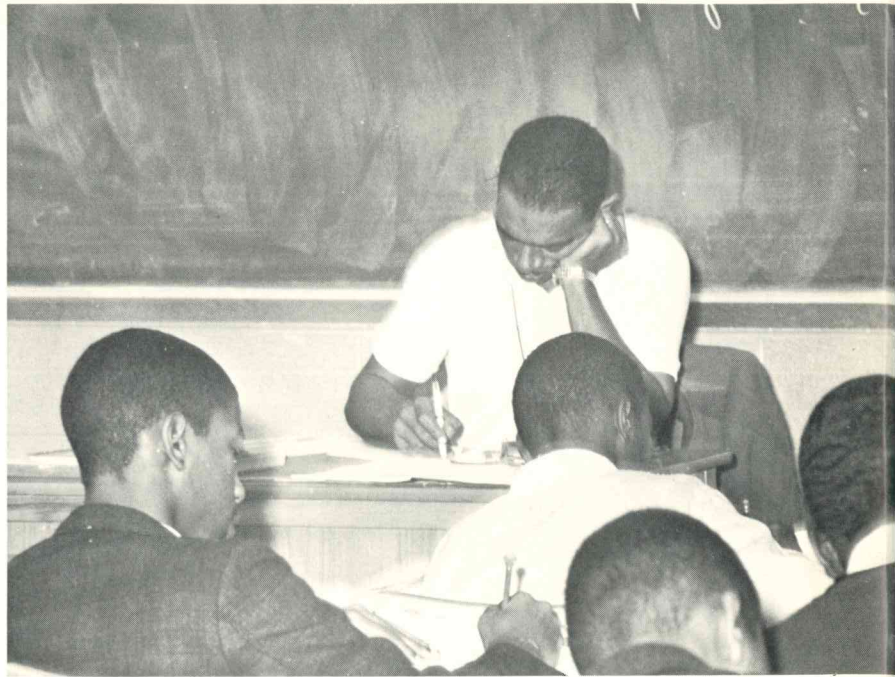

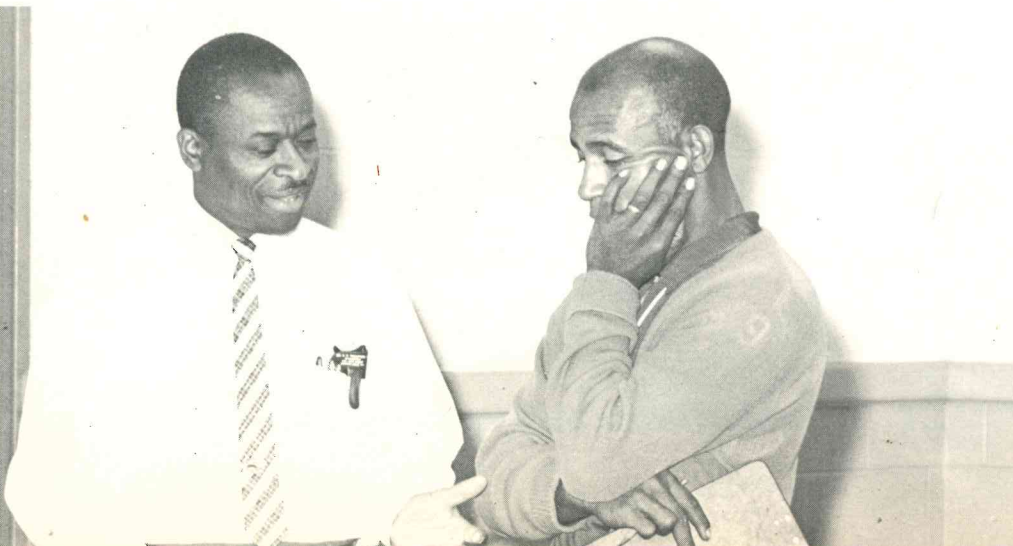

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

In keeping with the late President John F. Kennedy's physical fitness program for the youth of this country, the Physical Education department, headed by Mr. Walter R. Kane, endeavors to promote in its classes a campaign for sound bodies and clean living.

MR. WALTER R. KANE

Mr. Holmes discusses plans for the first game of the season as Coach Crittenden lends an attentive ear.

Good sportsmanship is the key that opens the door to victory in any game is a lesson which students in physical education meditate upon, while Mr. Kane calls "time out" for paper work.

FINE ARTS

MR. W. R. HERRING

MR. ARTHUR W. BOULDIN

In an attempt to raise the cultural level of students at Huntington, music, both vocal and instrumental, and art are offered as electives. Students who graduate from Huntington are often at an advantage for having participated in the choir or band, for they find music scholarships available to those who have demonstrated excellent musicianship.

Superior half-time performances at football games, concerts, and marching engagements for civic affairs are incentives to Mr. Herring for careful preparation.

Much of the choir's superb singing is due to Mr. Bouldin's artistry as a conductor and interpreter of music which has come to us from the masters.

MR. ALLEN LEWIS

Mrs. Mann demonstrates the importance of planning to Virginia Richardson and Theodore Knightnor.

MRS. MILDRED MANN

LIBRARY SCIENCE AND GUIDANCE

Students find the Guidance Center as a place in which they may iron out some of their academic difficulties, while the library serves as a place for quite, contemplative study for both students and faculty members.

To teach the "why's" and "where's" of our new, modern library, Mrs. Jackson offers a two-week course, in library science to all incoming eighth graders.

MRS. MAURICE JACKSON

MRS. RUTH M. PERRY

Christine Spratley finds that the library is one of our main sources of information about people and places and accosts Mrs. Perry for direction through the many volumes on the shelves.

MRS. MILDRED R. WILSON

A calm objectivity is a necessity in offering guidance to others, and Mrs. Wilson maintains that air as she receives her medicine from Dr. W. Goldsmith.

Mrs. Mae East, cafeteria director, makes the final tally for the day.

THE CAFETERIA STAFF

The menu is prepared and the food has been cooked. Mrs. Eley's job now is to announce what has been prepared.

ROW 1: Mrs. N. Perry, Mrs. B. Berkley, Miss A. Mitchell, Mrs. S. Gordon, Mrs. W. Scott. ROW 2: Mmes. A. Bratcher, I. Valentine, I. Jennings, S. Guthrie, C. Wormly, A. Godwin, R. Cannon, J. Eley, G. Knoght, Mr. S. Guthrie.

Mrs. S. Gordon and Mrs. I. Jennings know what it takes to satisfy the "sweet-tooth" of the Huntington family.

Assistant cook, Miss A. Mitchell, stirs up a delicious barbeque.

Mrs. S. Guthrie, head baker, utilizes the modern facilities of the cafeteria.

In order to get the task done of feeding the massive student body, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Berkeley, and Mrs. Jennings chime in to fill the many dessert bowls.

Making preparations to report their receipts from the lunches are Mrs. E. Davis, Mrs. A. O'Neill, and Mrs. M. Williams.

Second-in-command to the baker is Mrs. N. Perry who prepares homemade bread for the enjoyment of the student body.

THE JANITORIAL STAFF

We doff our caps to the janitorial staff for providing us with a well-attended building. The members of the staff are: ROW 1: Mrs. I. Johnson, Mrs. F. Tabb, Mrs. L. Tynes, Mrs. R. Jones. ROW 2: Miss G. Blount, Mrs. S. Mason, Miss Mary Washington, Mrs. R. Welch. ROW 3: Mrs. S. Gatling, Mrs. Ida Finch.

Mr. R. Wardrett lowers the colors at the end of a busy day, while Mrs. Welch goes about her task of wiping away the many footprints left on the stairs. Mr. E. T. Miller is caught by our roving photographer as he goes to his next assignment.

Much of the heavy work which may need to be done is handled by Messrs. S. Wilson, R. Garland, E. T. Miller, and J. Forbbs.

An Apple a Day
The roving photographer catches Stephanie Smith grabbing a pre-class snack, while Leon Saunders implores her to save a bite for himself.

THE MOMENTS BEFORE

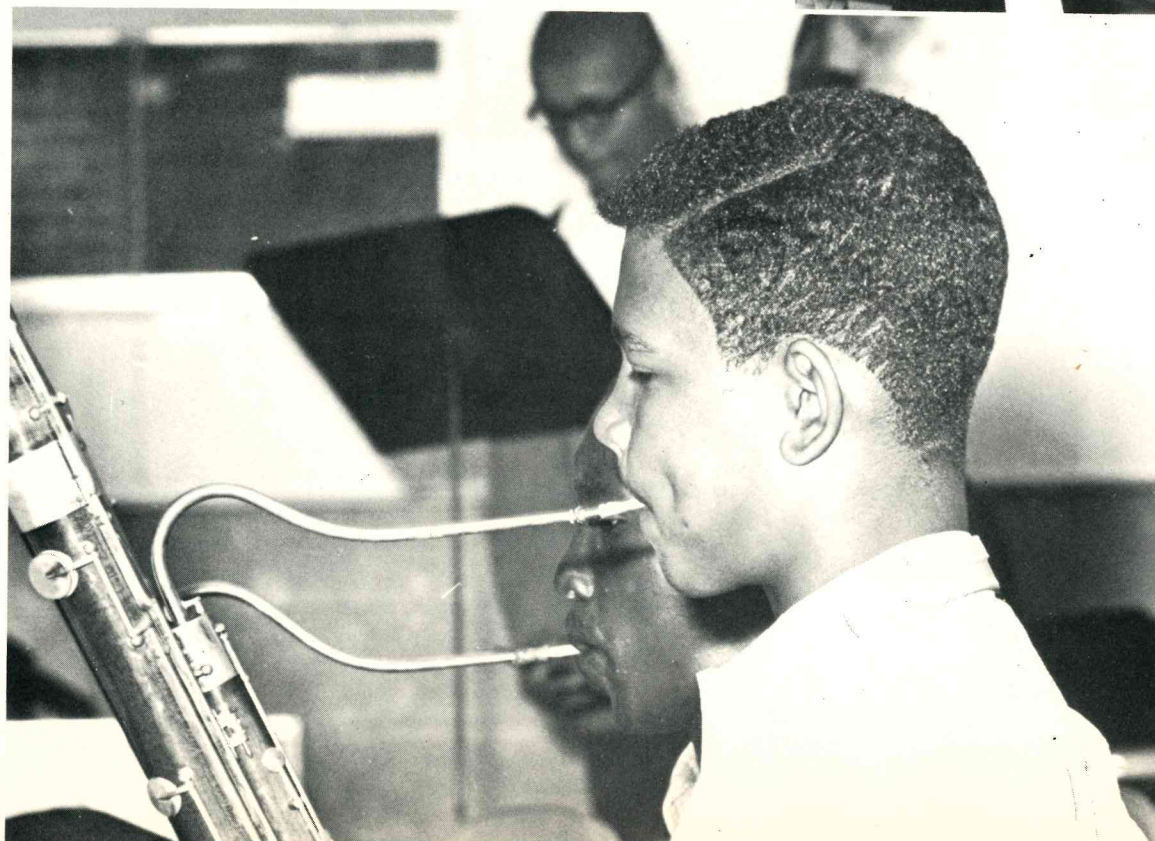

Often the moments leading up to a class can be quite taxing. Jackie Harris and Thomas Fauntleroy use their time wisely by engaging in last minute reverie before that big final exam.

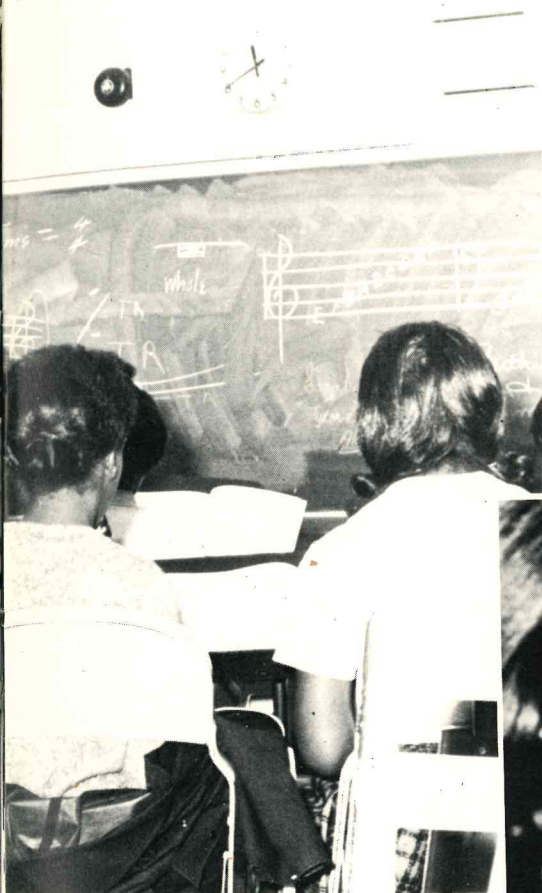

Cooperation between individuals is necessary in the true development of human character. Raymond Charity and Alda Nelson confer briefly in a pre-class conversation before presenting their project.

Eddie West (above), Harry Whitehead, and William Johnson (below) work constantly at making themselves better musicians.

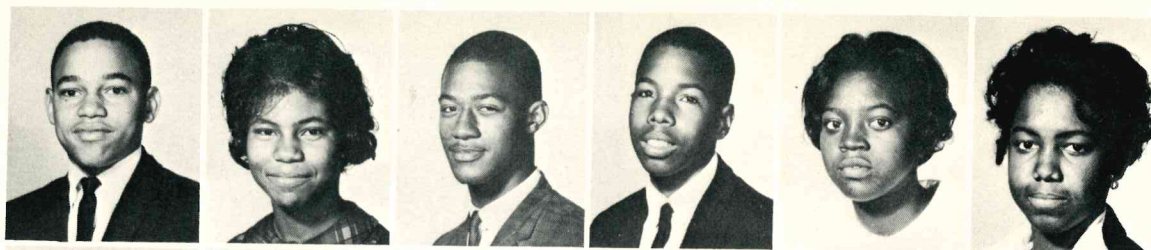

Baton ready, instruments in position . . . STRIKE UP THE BAND.

Charles Parker pauses between the hustle and bustle of changing classes to check out a book from the library.

"Lift Every Voice and Sing"

As a sophomore, Cecelia Gay, an alto, has found her place in one of the major activities at Huntington High School.

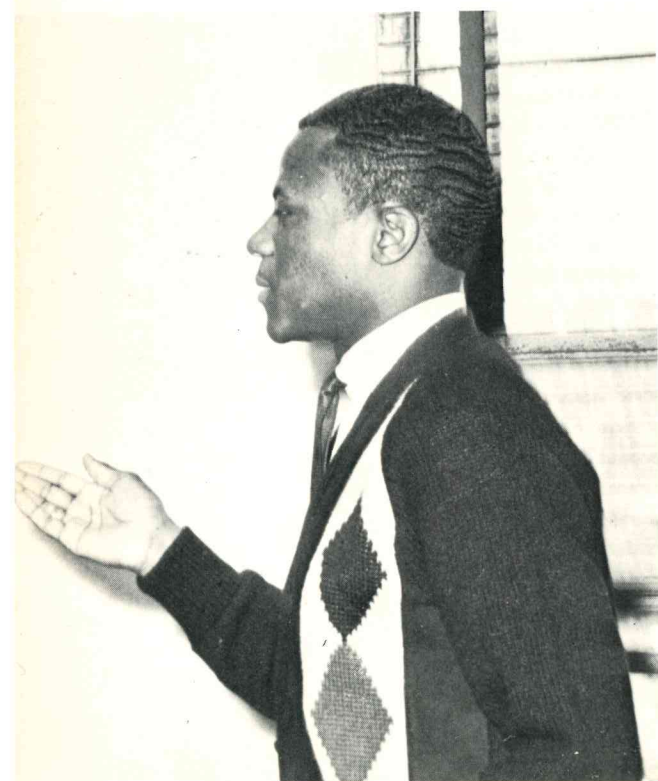

INTERNATIONAL LANGUAGES

Whether singing songs in French, German, Russian, or English, Stephanie Anderson performs her very best in rehearsals, for "practice makes perfect."

James Ridley uses effective gestures as he recites in his speech class. An integral part of international communication, speaking is most fervently stressed at Huntington.

Music and dance are also international languages in that they are means by which all nations express themselves. Our Modern Dance group gives their interpretation of an African uprising.

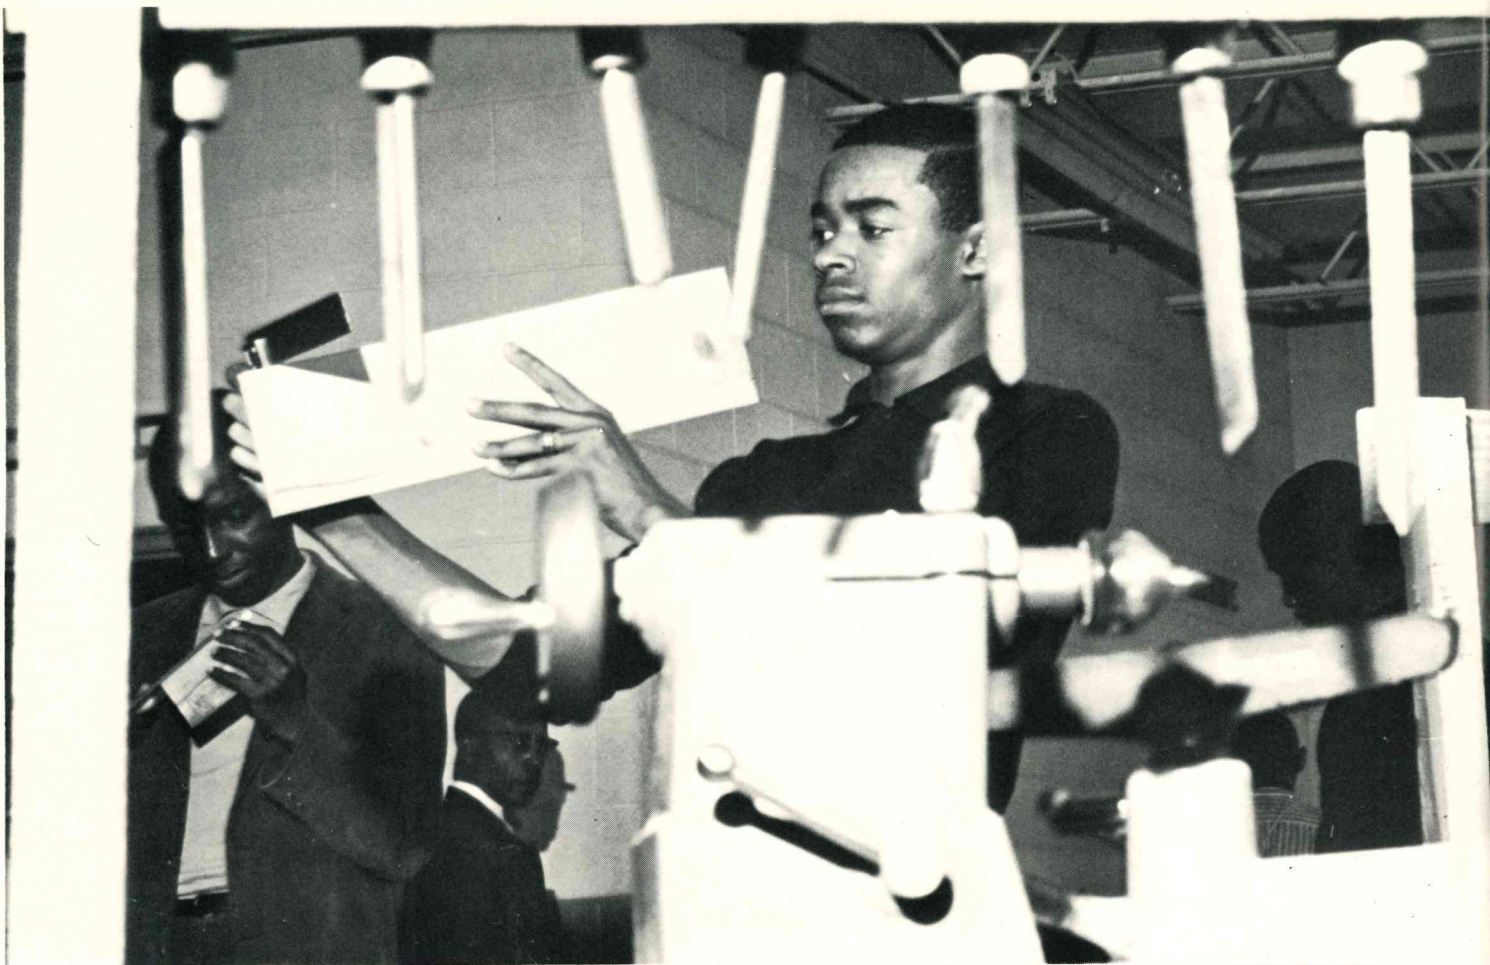

Language perfected in any form require much study and concentration. Audrey Whitehead lifts her voice to the baton of the conductor as her fellow choir members make preparation for the annual Christmas concert.

Foreign languages are becoming increasingly popular at Huntington, for they too are means of expression. Linda Keiller and Harold Atkins (right) and Mary Moody (above) test the new facilities of our foreign language laboratory.

Precision is a word which cannot be overemphasized in a woodworking class. Assigned to the class for two hours, Hearly Vaughn takes his time to be certain that every edge is straight and every surface is smooth.

Dr. R. O. Nelson, superintendent of schools, and Mr. J. M. Dozier, school board member, momentarily pause from their inspection tour of the building to decide in which direction they will go. Much praise came from the two administrators on the manner in which the building had been kept.

Mr. R. Newman, Dr. J. T. Tobe, Dr. W. T. Watkins, and Dr. C. W. Scott, all members of the school board, observe the benefits of a newly built, well-equipped woodworking shop, as Frank Watson (kneeling) and Ervin Pulliam carefully go about constructing their projects.

MASTERPIECES IN THE MAKING

Today's Student -- Tomorrow Homemaker
 In preparation for a future as a homemaker, Cheral Jones, ninth grader, busily prepares tarts in her home economics class.

Finding the newly built art room most conducive to creativity, Perry Ford (kneeling) and Jerry Birdsong perpetuate the ancient custom of displaying masks during the Halloween season.

Girls in home economics are rewarded for their diligence in cooking by being allowed to eat and share their cooking. Dorothy Watson (below) shows that school is not all work and no play, while Nancy Jackson and Doris Rumble entertain Theodore Knightnor.

Homemaking is necessary at some point in every woman's life. Bertha Miller (standing) and Shirley Coleman demonstrates their cooking skills to their home economics class.

CLOTHES MAKE THE MAN
Clothes may not make the man, but every woman knows just how important they are in good grooming. Linda Hatchett has learned the fundamentals of clothing and now adds the finishing touch to her project.

Mrs. Perry seems to be searching for something. Whether she is collecting fines or checking out books, she is always on the job improving our study facilities.

SCRUTINY
Just to find that shade of difference in the meaning of the word, Suzanne Browne scrutinizingly searches the pages of Webster.

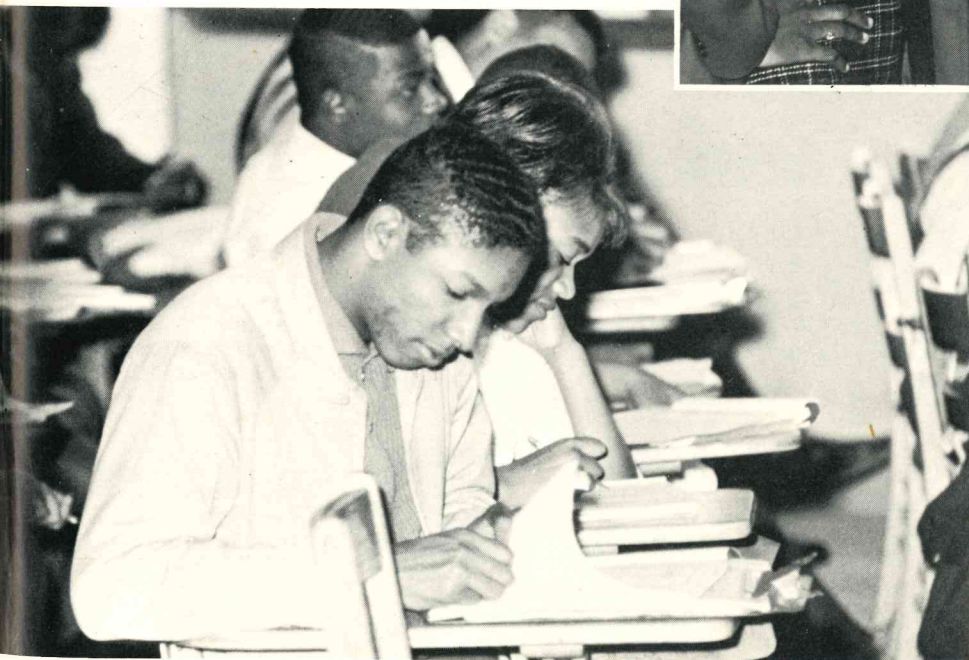

ACCIDENTS WILL HAPPEN

Having to stop for erasures can be quite annoying, for it slows one's speed down considerably. Juel Franklin, who types 105 words per minute, is no exception in this case.

SOCIALIZING

Patricia Pryor, Alice James, and Odessa Williams pause for a moment to catch up on the latest news around Huntington. Socializing, however, is not restricted to seniors, for it is a favorite pastime for students on all grade levels.

Larry Jenkins finds that Senior English calls for many well-thought-through sentences and paragraphs. Undaunted by their frequent loss of words, his classmates, Jackie Harris and Clarence Mason, brook their plight.

Though not an alchemist, Gerald McCallum goes over a check list of chemicals and supplies which are vital to a successful experiment.

Gerald, a senior, has proven himself an excellent photographer and has contributed much to the photographic success of our yearbook.

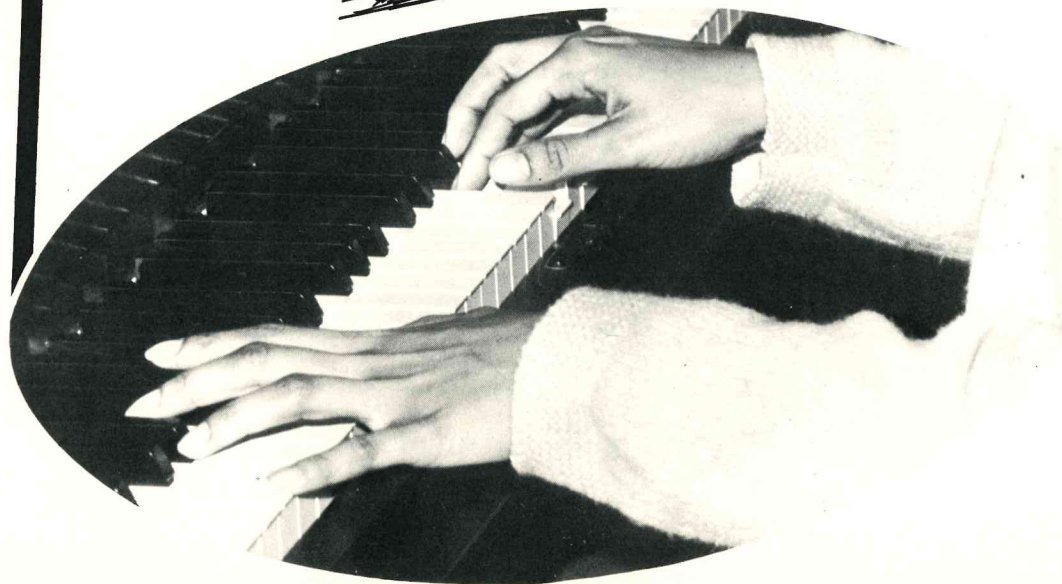

Miss Thomas stresses the importance of accurate spelling and effective thought organization.

Periodically she assigns creative writing tasks to her eighth graders in preparing them for the many years of writing ahead.

EXECUTIVE BOARD

John Sullivan, chaplain; Daniel Davis, public relations chairman; Ivy Sedgewick, parliamentarian; Vicky Fortune, president; Nancy Jackson, assistant recording secretary; Anette Banks, recording secretary; Wallicia Thomas, corresponding secretary; Joyce Roddy, historian.

STUDENT COUNCIL INSTALLATION

Vicky Fortune, having assumed the post of President of the Student Council, initiates her term of office by installing the newly elected members into the Council.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, a most important organization at Huntington, follows its purposes in developing leadership in the students, pointing out and solving school problems, and emphasizing good citizenship throughout the student body. While developing the trait of leadership within students, it also serves as the bridge which links student-faculty relationship.

STUDENT PATROL

COLLECTING

Y. Travis, S. Smith, R. Rainey, J. Roddy, L. Browning, D. Dalton, J. Wood, J. Martin, P. Wooden, P. Pryor, B. Boone are beginning their daily hike collecting absentee slips.

CHECKING

S. Dorsey and J. Price apply their skills in alphabetizing the little yellow slips bearing the names of the absentees.

CONFERRING

Slips are then turned over to the faculty-student committee, composed of Mrs. Jackson, C. Montague, R. Charity, Mr. Lewis, L. Browning, Mrs. Baker, and S. Rose.

ATTENDANCE COMMITTEE

COMPARING

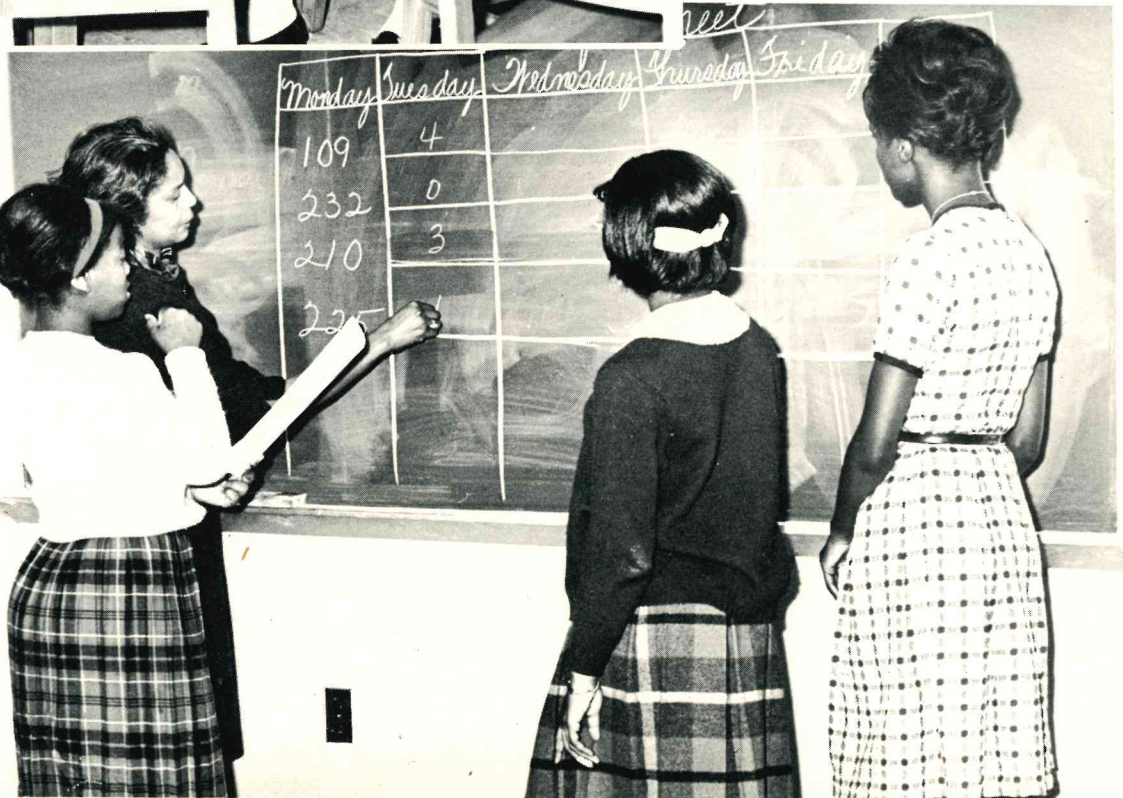

W. Vines, Mr. Baker, Mrs. Lucas, S. Dorsey, Mrs. Wilson, K. Mitchell compare notes to formulate their statistics.

In an attempt to keep check on the drop-out rate and the frequent absentees at Huntington, the Attendance Committee receives and processes the names of such chronic cases. Under the direction of Mrs. N. Grandberry and Carolyn Montague, student chairman, the committee works industriously to keep the student body and faculty aware of this enigma.

TALLYING

The final figures are in and are recorded by Mrs. Grandberry, P. Burrell, J. Roddy, and B. Davis.

THE DEBATING SOCIETY

ROLAND AND THE KIDS

Presiding in the absence of President William Wilkins is Roland Lynch, who gives the group a few pointers on debating techniques. Roland Lynch, vice-president; Antonette Atkins, Diane Chavis, Joyce Roddy, secretary; Darrilyn Vassar, Sandra Simms, Gary Palmer.

Now in its second year at Huntington, the Debating Society has received challenges from schools throughout the State, and it looks forward yearly to the assembly here at school, at which time it presents an actual debate in the presence of the student body. This is done with hopes that the students will have an opportunity to witness a debate and become acquainted with their responsibility as members of the audience.

Students at Huntington display a special fondness for the versatility of the English language through their participation in the activities of the English Club. Although only in its infancy, the club makes every endeavor to analyze and understand the major problems which students experience in mastering the English language.

THE ENGLISH CLUB

THE FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Miss L. M. Weaver, long-time sponsor of the F.T.A., divides her time to allow for some service on the evaluating committee.

FTA IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY...

In the play, "Cathy's Choice" J. Corbin, D. Powell, E. White, C. Holmes, W. Thomas, J. McGeorge, F. Faison, P. Brown combine their dramatic talents to show the student body why it is important to make vocational decisions and plans early in life.

To improve your own character and personality for these are the foundation of successful teaching.

To take a realistic look at teaching, its many opportunities, challenging problems, essential nature, and services to humanity.

ROW 1: E. White, D. Scales, J. Corgin, C. Holmes, W. Thomas, C. Charity, J. Williams, P. Aytch. ROW 2: M. Lewis, C. Savage, D. Love-lace, A. Lewis, R. Harrison, W. Bryant, L. Harrison, C. To study and identify the qualities, traits, and aptitudes which good teachers possess and to find ways to cultivate these in yourself.

To observe and try your hand in many teaching situations, always under the sympathetic guidance of qualified teachers.

To explore your own interests, abilities, and skills so that you can be sure your decision to teach, or not to teach, will be right for you.

To study and visit colleges and universities so that you may select wisely the school which will influence your entire career and life.

To get ready for college so that you may be successful as a student and as a leader in the institution of your choice.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

President Shirley Whitaker pre-sides over club meetings designed to provide individual projects that contribute to the establishment of a sound business. Aware of the increasing demand for honest business personnel, sponsors Mrs. C. Hines and Miss R. Haltiwanger encourage thriftiness and integrity.

Mrs. J. M. Rattley pays a visit to the school to serve as the speaker for the installation services. An ex-staff member of Huntington, Mrs. Rattley is the director of the Peninsula Business College.

MOMENTS BEFORE THE HOUR
Math Club students seek the privacy of the art room to make last minute preparation for class.

ADVANCED MATH Students in advanced mathematics class listen attentively while Alice James explains the problem for the day.

STUDENTS OF SCIENCE

The purposes of the science club, newly named "Students of Science," have been realized through scientific investigations and the provision of information on scientific phenomena. In addition to the initial program of the year -- the installation services with Dr. R.H. Dunn as speaker -- the club has offered pertinent discussions over the public address system on hurricanes. Participation in the Virginia Junior Academy of Science is another of the annual activities which students anticipate.

Aside from building projects for the annual Math-Science conference, members of the Mathematics Club attempt to inspire other students to take a greater interest in mathematics as a vocation or an avocation.

THE GIRLS' CULTURE CLUB

COFFEE BREAK IN
THE NEW FACULTY
LOUNGE

Miss L. L. Jones and Mr. Bruce McLeod enjoy the comforts of the new faculty lounge as they sample the coffee, a contribution of the two culture clubs. We doff our hats to them and the club members for their contribution in the furnishing of accessories for the beautification of the lounge.

THE GIRLS' AND BOYS' CULTURE CLUB

The word "culture" is a French-Latin origin meaning "to till." With this meaning in mind the Girls' and Boys' Culture Clubs exist to till within the members an appreciation for the finer aspects of life: citizenship, scholarship, and fellowship. Through this affiliation with the clubs, the members gain new and significant insights concerning culture and its many counterparts. Sponsoring trips, fashion shows, and emphasizing the importance of proper dress are but a few activities in which the clubs come together to effect.

WATCH THE BIRDIE

M. Christian gives C. Betts' hair a final touch-up while G. Dickens, J. Kelley and L. Gregory await their turn to pose for photographers M. Price, A. Price, C. Thomas, and P. Jackson.

HOBBY CLUB

"LEND ME YOUR EAR"

Mr. Fred Whiting gives invaluable instructions to Peter Jackson on the proper operation of the school's new speed graphic camera.

THE MIRROR STAFF

The MIRROR, the school newspaper, holds as its ultimate aim to unify the student body by informing it of school problems and issues. Bearing editorials and features written by some of the more creative minds around the campus, the MIRROR makes an effort to stay abreast of the important news in our dynamic Huntington.

A GOOD SCHOOL IS AN INFORMED SCHOOL

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. P. J. Holman the newspaper is made ready for the press. Anita Spratley, editor; confers with Carolyn Montague (CENTER) while D. Mines, S. Travis, J. Robinson, D. NATIONAL JUNIOR HONOR SOCIETY

Both the National Honor Society and its counterpart, the National Junior Honor Society, endeavor to encourage students to excel academically by holding book review sessions, campaigning for better study habits during the exam periods, and by improving the general character of Huntington students. The president of the National Honor Society, Sandra Simms, presided over the first Virginia Association of NHS this year. The Junior Honor Society sponsored a Book Fair and presented at the end of the first six-week period a "Get Acquainted" party in honor of all eighth and ninth graders who had an average of "B" or better.

THE FRENCH CLUB

Despite the heavy down pour outside, the French must go on. With a characteristic gesture, Mrs. Grandberry, co-sponsor of the club, lends an attentive ear.

French and Spanish are an integral part of the curriculum at Huntington. Because of the ever-increasing zeal for the two languages, the French and Spanish Clubs were formed to develop an intensive and extensive interest in the languages, its people, and the many other aspects of the countries where the two languages are spoken.

The Spanish Club (La Sociedad Latinoamericana) is headed by Mr. D. Lawrence with John Sullivan serving as president.

Mr. Lawrence assists Henrietta Blair and Sharon Christian as they engage in their laboratory conversation.

The newly formed Art Club has selected the name "The Villagers" to identify themselves with the area from which so much of today's art stems. In addition to keeping the school bulletin boards decorated with many excellent ideas and messages to the student body, the club beckons to all students who are interested in building a more beautiful school and community and broadening their artistic insights.

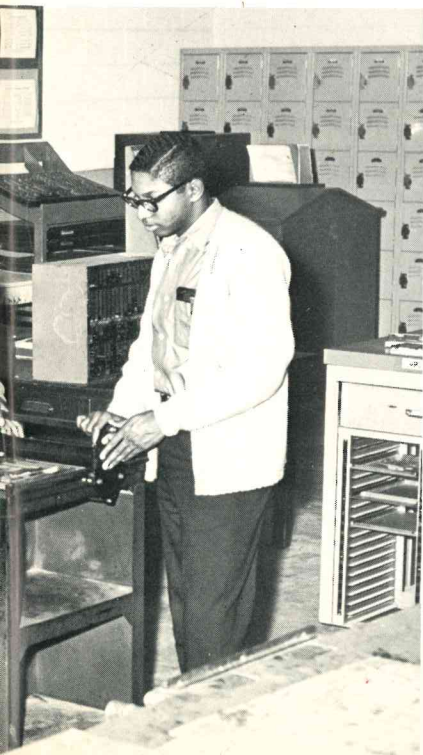

"Smoke and fire"

THE INDUSTRIAL CLUB

Members of the Industrial Club are afforded the opportunity to exercise their talents in many aspects of the arts. Besides encouraging an interdependence among workers and the habit of safety, the club gives its members a broader view of industrial organizations and encourages them to take an interest in acquiring a hobby for their leisure time activities.

THE SOCIAL STUDIES CLUB

In a world which is incessantly in strife, understanding is the key which unlocks all doors to peace. This understanding must begin in the youth of this nation, and it is the primary objective of the Social Studies Club to take initial step in fostering this idea. In addition to sponsoring trips to the nation's capitol where the laws are debated, revamped, and re-examined, the club keeps itself and the student body abreast of current world news.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION & INDUSTRIAL COOPERATIVE TRAINING

Completing its first year as a part of the Huntington curriculum, Distributive Education affords students the opportunity to take an active part in the distribution of the merchandise which is sold on the open market. Students who register for this on-the-job training program are prepared to face the business world by actively engaging in selling and management.

THE CHOIR

The Huntington High School Choir has brought honor and fame to its school through its frequent television appearances, the annual Christmas and Spring concerts, invitations to sing throughout the State, and the District and State Music Festivals at which it received highest praise. While more than just a singing organization, it is a group composed of a cross section of students throughout the school.

TENORS

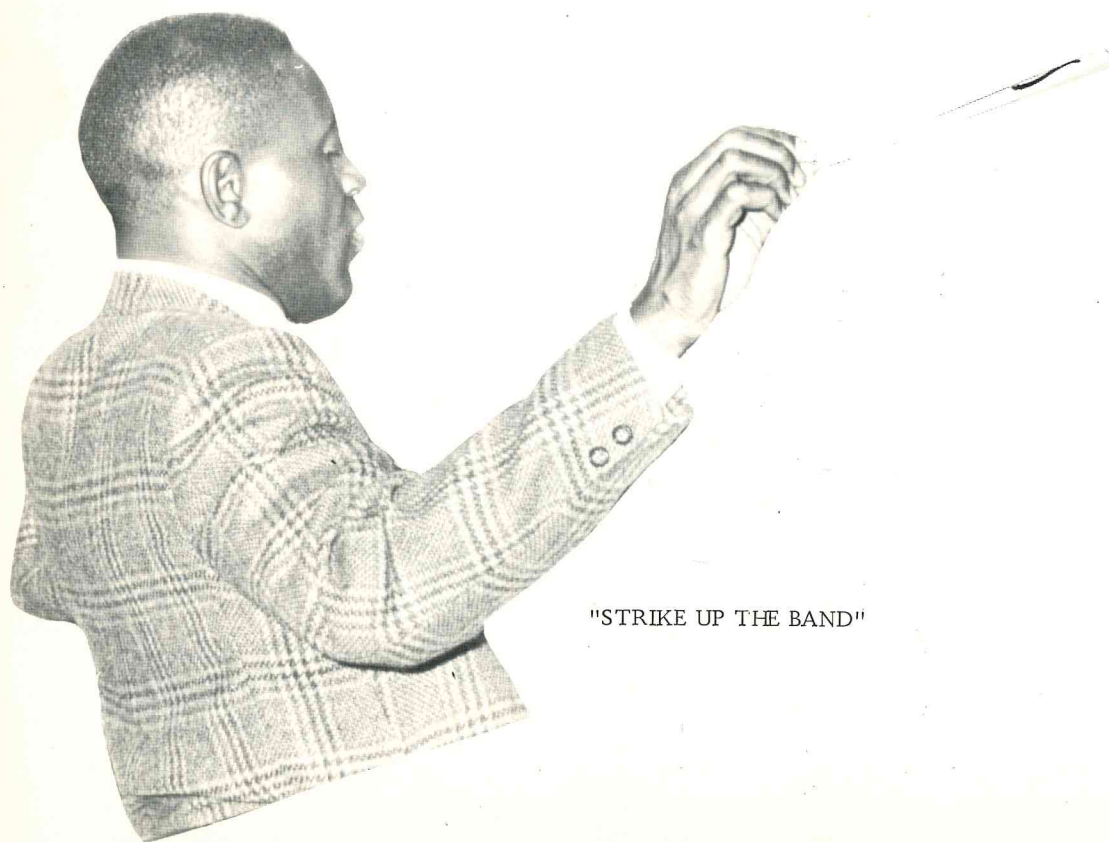

BAND

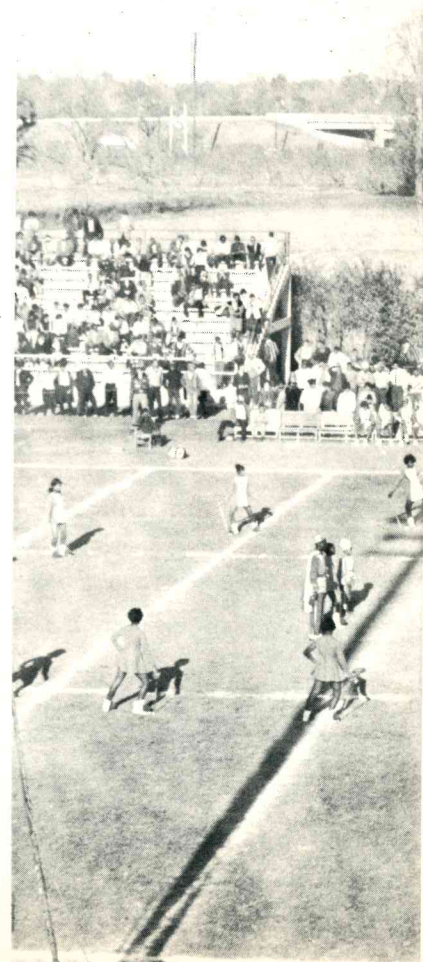

The Huntington High School Marching Band begins its half-time show at the Huntington-Phenix game with the one of its new steps created by band member Ronald Brown.

"STRIKE UP THE BAND"

WOODWINDS AND BRASS

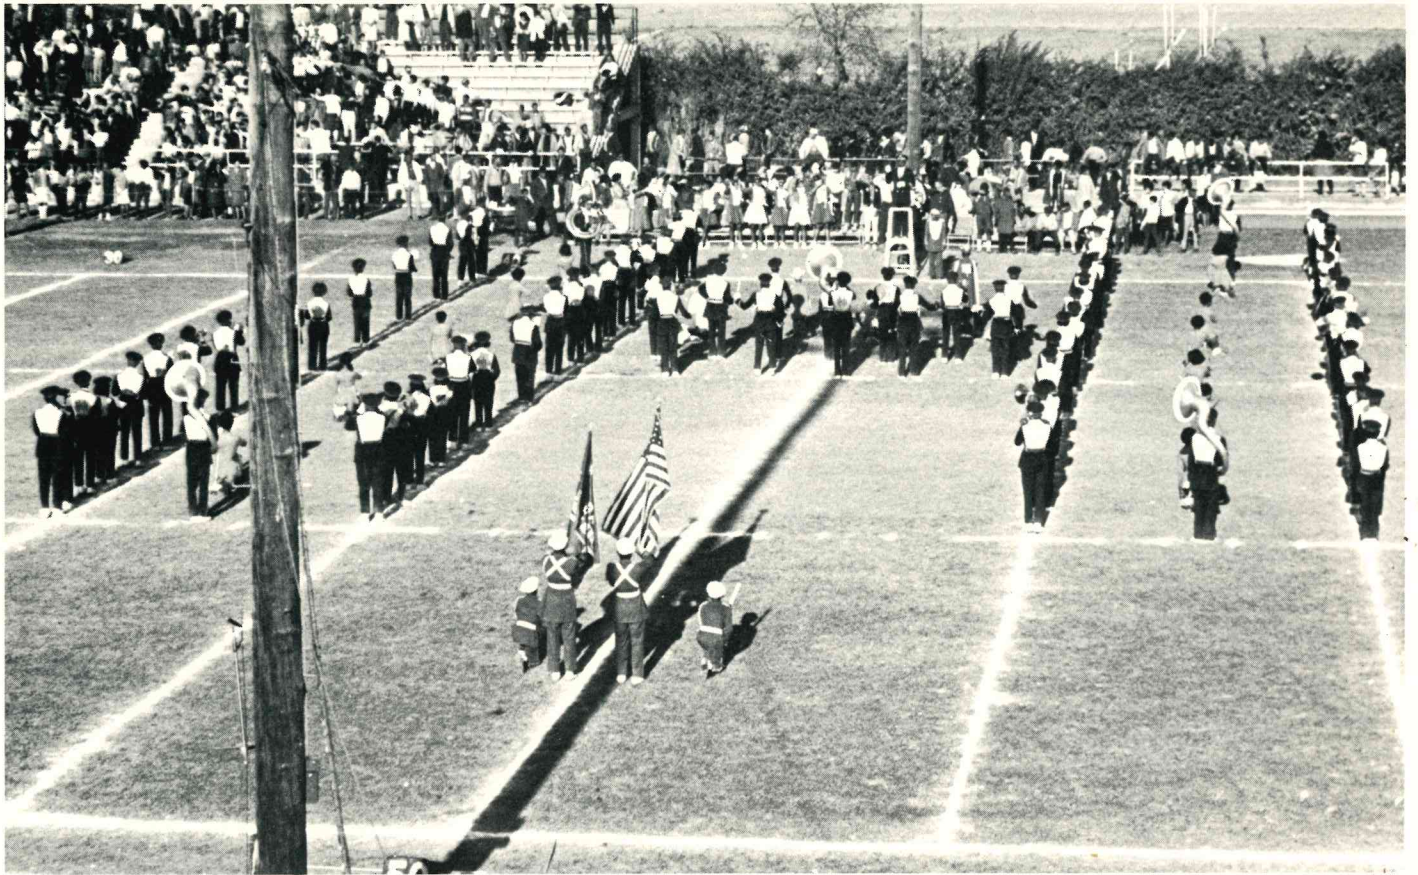

Music from the grandstand often times fills the crowd with a lively spirit and serves as a vertebrae of a winning team.

Bedecked in his Viking band uniform, Richard Hall steps lively to the rapid beat of his drum.

During the half-time festivities, the band performs the symphonic selection "Filandia."

THE STARS AT HALF-TIME . . . The "marching 80" have brought pride to the hearts of every Huntingtonian. Their ability to play all types of music in a style that is all their own has been demonstrated through the years in a manner which has brought fame and honor to the school. Their lively tunes have often lifted the school morale when it was ebbing.

Drum major Samuel Butts and members of the color guard await the down beat to the "National Anthem."

The percussion section is the one which gives any marching band the punch it needs to be rated as superior.

Surrounded by Helen Armfield and Woodrena Brown, Joseph Perry "oompahs" on the sousaphone during a half-time performance.

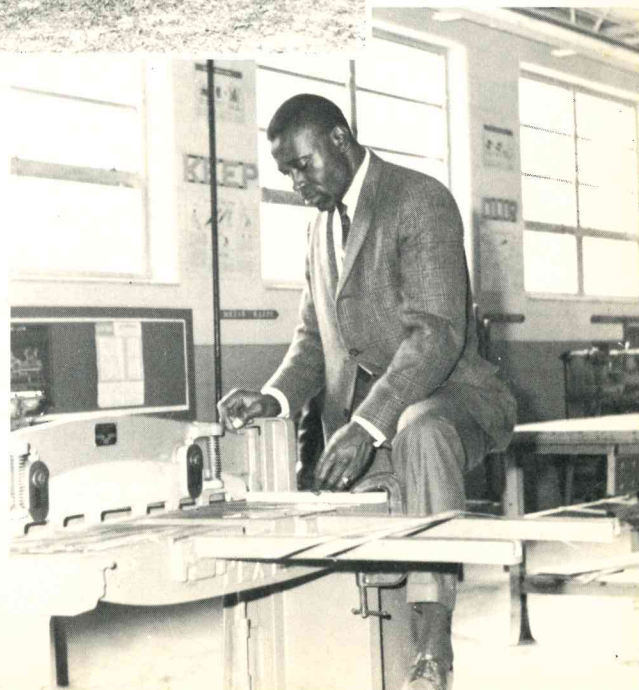

Mr. Herring, (below) applies his skills in the shops in an effort to supplement his band equipment.

The performance is over, and A. Price and R. Brown check in the last uniform.

W. Brown, G. Alston, L. Herring, J. Staples, C. Williamson, J. Graves, R. Young, H. Armfield, E. Peters; Y. Smith, V. McRae, S. McNair, C. Batts, E. Brown, C. Savage, E. Fogg, S. Lynch.

Anita and Orita Whitehead jest for a moment as they pose for the roving photographer.

The Stairs to Success
The taller of the Browns, Johnny, prepares to lead his counterpart, Tommy, up the stairs of success. Like some of their other friends who are twins at Huntington, Johnny and Tommy are members of the eighth grade.

Mr. Algie Pitchford, Drama and Social Studies; Mrs. Carol B. McFerrin, Science; Mr. Freddie L. Travis, Social Studies; Mrs. Louise Lipscombe, Social Studies and Guidance; Mr. George Davis, Physical Education.

Mrs. V. B. Batten, Science and Guidance; Mr. Claude N. Carter, Social Studies Chairman and Guidance; Mr. C. C. Johnson, Assistant Principal.

THE HUNTINGTON ALUMNI

The impact which Huntington makes upon the minds of its graduates and the administrative effort to bring back to the school some of its own output is evident by the percentage of Huntington grads on the teaching staff.

Mrs. Karen L. Wilson, English; Mrs. Mildred Jennings, Physical Education; Miss Elsie Graham, English.

Mrs. Hattie T. Lucas, Home Economics; Mr. David T. Lawrence, Spanish.

Graduating classes from as far back as 1925 and as recent as 1959 are represented on these pages.

Mrs. E. W. Fleming, English; Mrs. B. Francis, Physical Education; Mrs. V. J. Cobb, Home Economics Chairman; Mr. Howard Alston, Science and Audio-Visual Aids.

COACHES CONFER BEFORE SCRIMMAGE. As Mr. George Davis and Mr. Garrell Hartman make pre-scrimmage preparations, the members of the Junior Varsity exercise in order to relax tight muscles and tense nerves.

BLOOD, SWEAT, AND TEARS

Alas! The day for the big game has come, and the spectators await a hard-fought game between the Vikings and their opponents.

THE TOUCHDOWN PLAY

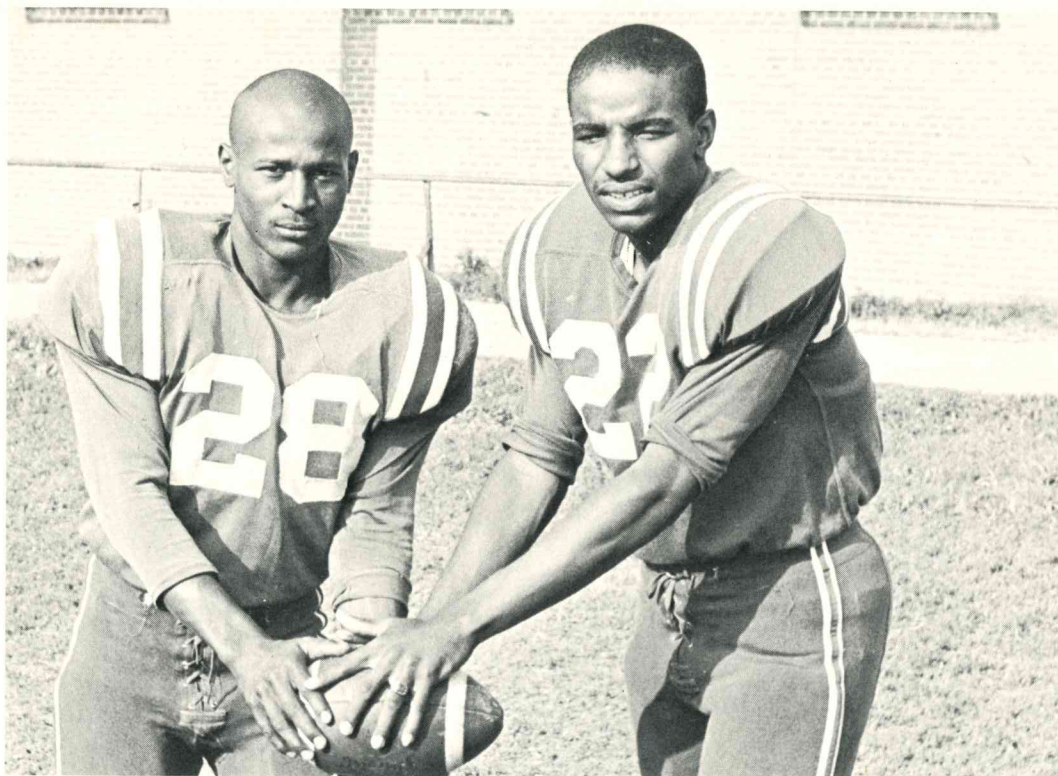

Eric McCaskill carries the ball over the goal line for a touchdown at one of the most important games of the season.

TIME OUT FOR PICTURES

Coach Thad Madden, a long-time coach for the Huntington Vikings, takes time out from scrimmage to jest with Eric McCaskill.

CO-CAPTAINS MEET:

Two of Huntington's outstanding ball players are Wayman Jones, a hard-to-get-around, outside line backer, and Eric McCaskill, a speedy, agile, half-back. Key players for the Vikings, they both have demonstrated their ability to exercise good sportsmanship both on the field and off.

ROBINSON ON THE ROLL-OUT:

Tyrone Robinson, quarterback for the Vikings, is a sure thing -- whether he is back in the slot for a pass, or whether he is side-stepping around the end on a tally.

TAYLOR UP THE MIDDLE:

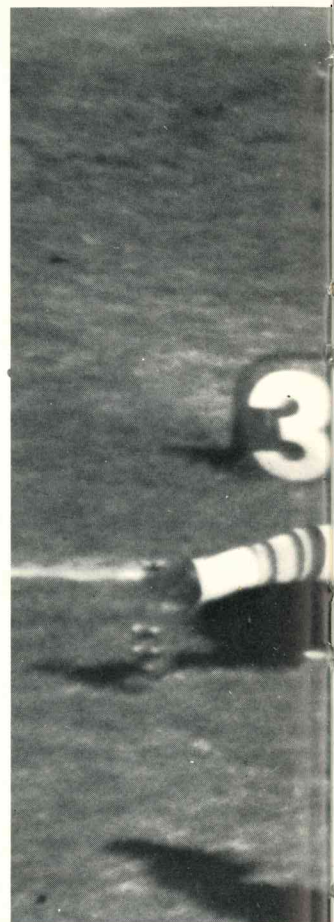

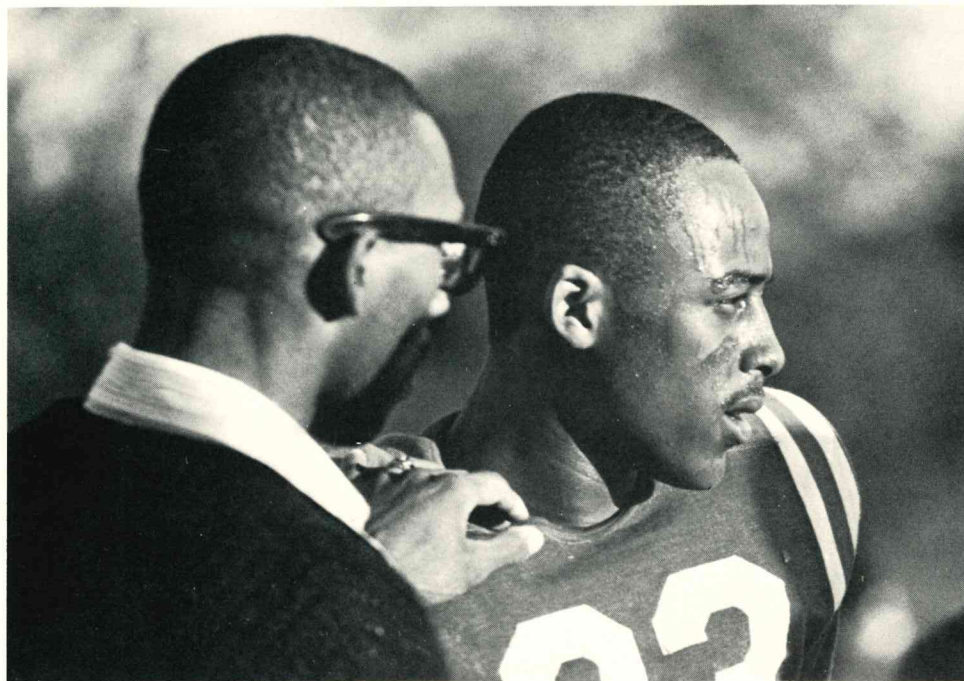

Donald Taylor, senior, is shown here crunching up the center for an important gain. As a fullback, he has proven himself to be detrimental to rival teams.

THE ONE THAT GOT AWAY:

In every game, there is always one which gets away . . . So McCaskill learns.

Donald Taylor, 185 pound fullback, is back on the sideline for more information from Roscoe Blount, a well-wisher from Hampton Institute.

TOUCHDOWN

After intercepting a Baby Pirate pass, Larry Briggs, a prominent defensive back, races back upfield for a touch- down.

Dwight Guy and Roosevelt Askeew prepare for a thundering tackle of a ball carrier from Norcom High.

JOY

The Vikings find total joy as the final gun goes off, leaving a score of 20-0 against arch-rival Phenix High.

MOODS IN THE SPOTLIGHT

PEP TALK

His morale having been lowered by a slight injury, Eric McCaskill receives words of encouragement from Roscoe Blount. A recipient of the title of "the most outstanding defensive back," McCaskill later returned to the game for an excellent come-back.

From the sideline, John Jones views the game with eager anticipation.

Churning around left end out of the reach of his would-be tacklers, Collins Whitaker displays his fine maneuverability as he racks up a 12 yard gain.

Glen Newby grimaces in agony as he endures the pains of action. The sun reflects the many battle-scars which result from rough playing.

Talking it over during their break are defensive players Ernest Brown (foreground) and Marvin Simms. Coach Crittenden stands beside them to give them further instructions.

Tyron Robinson is determined not to be touched as he elusively rolls out from the clutching hands of his pursuers. Wayman Jones throws the key block which springs Robinson loose for a considerable gain against Phenix.

"To Hun-ting-ton we pledge . . . "

"Fancy-footing" up the middle is speedy half-back James Perkins, who does not waste any time while carrying the ball.

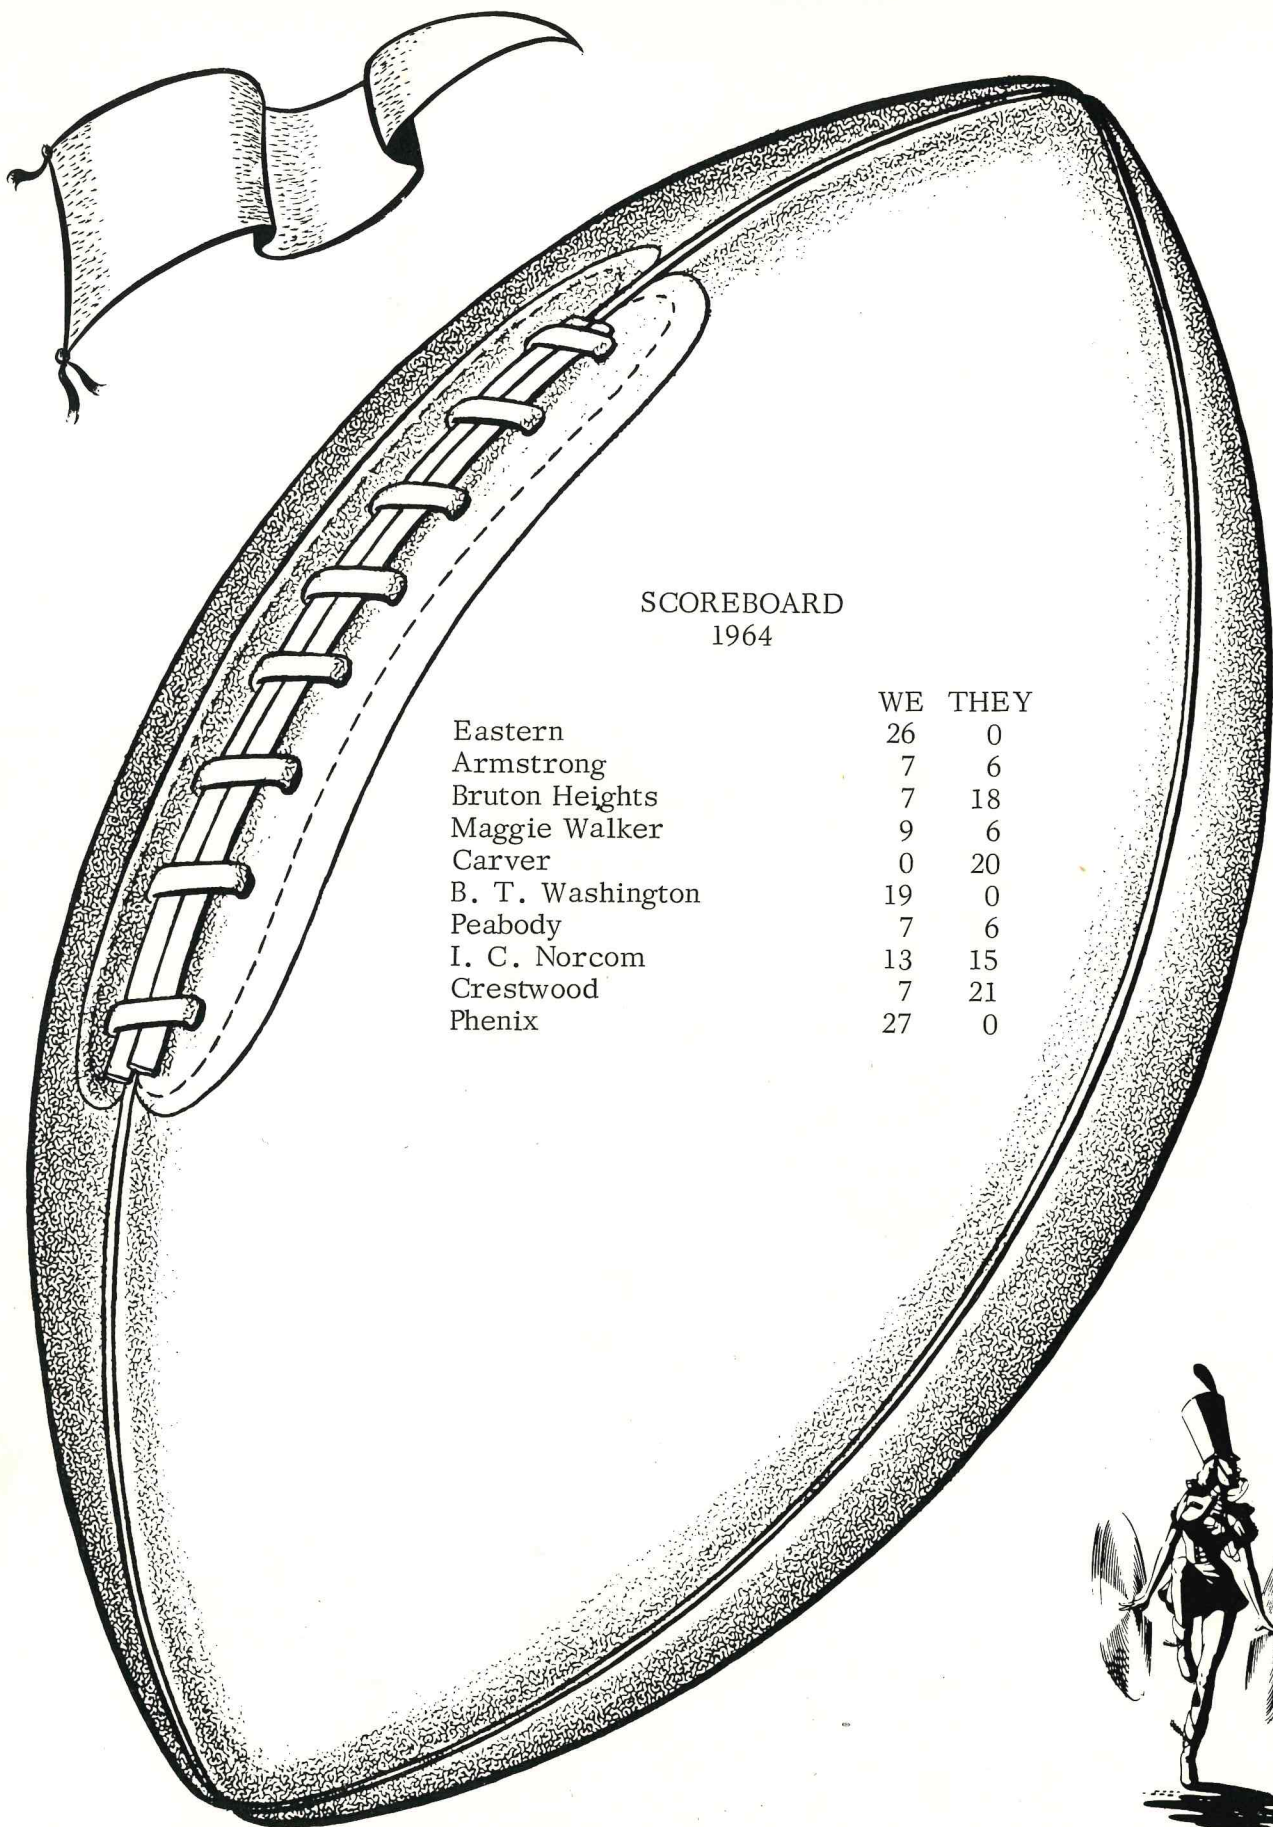

James Perkins pensively watches the action on the gridiron.

DEFENSIVELY YOURS

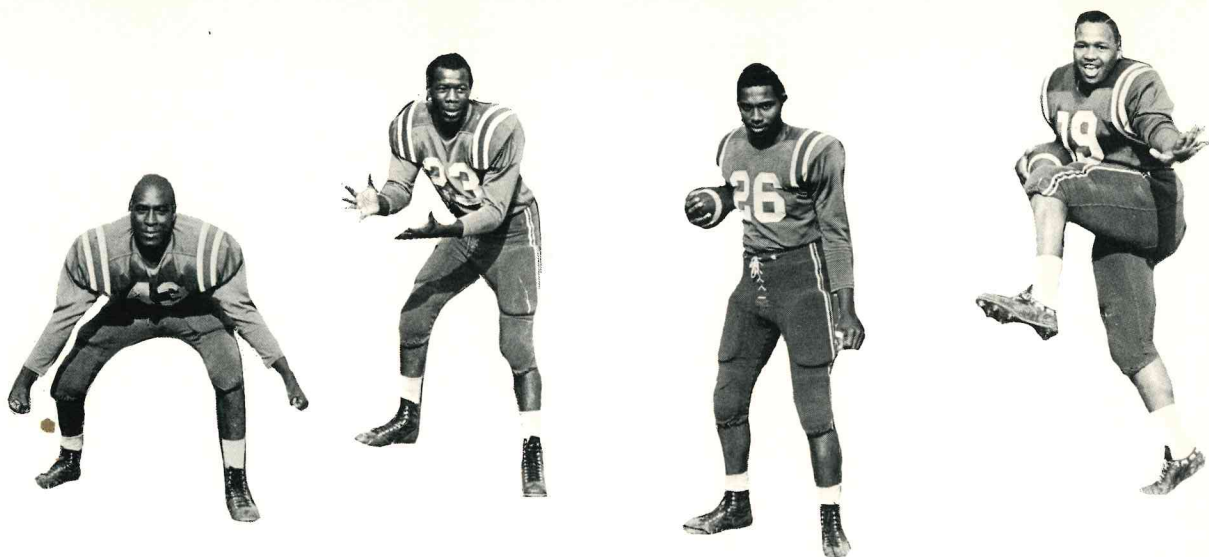

The defensive squad, an essential part of a good team, creates a blockage of all offensive obstacles.

BASKETBALL AT HUNTINGTON

Designed to teach good sportsmanship, to build sound bodies and minds and to afford capable students an opportunity to perform outside of the classroom, basketball has become a major activity at Huntington. Coached by Mr. Raymond C. Crittenden, the team has received many invitations to participate in championship competition and has held its own in those events.

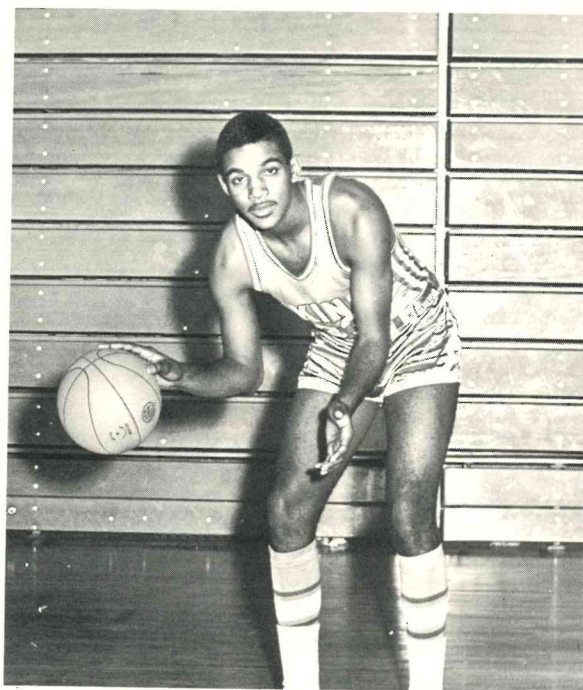

A. Lewis, B. Oliver, V. Corbin, R. Rainey, P. Sneed, J. Edwards, and B. Whitfield propel much of the action on the floor with their rousing cheers.

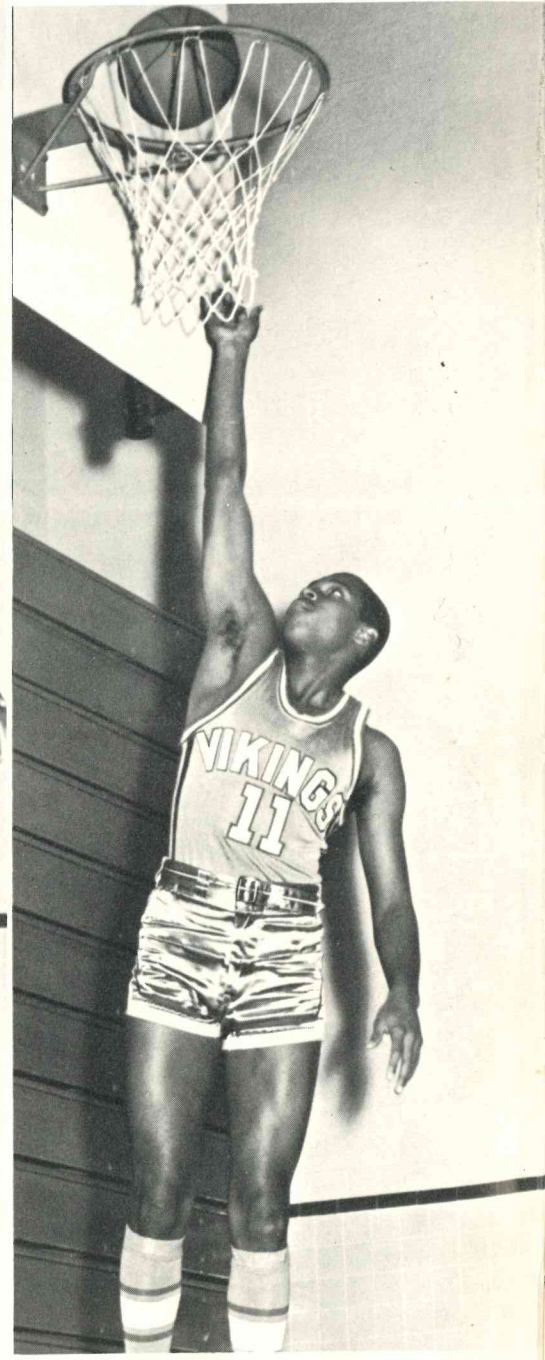

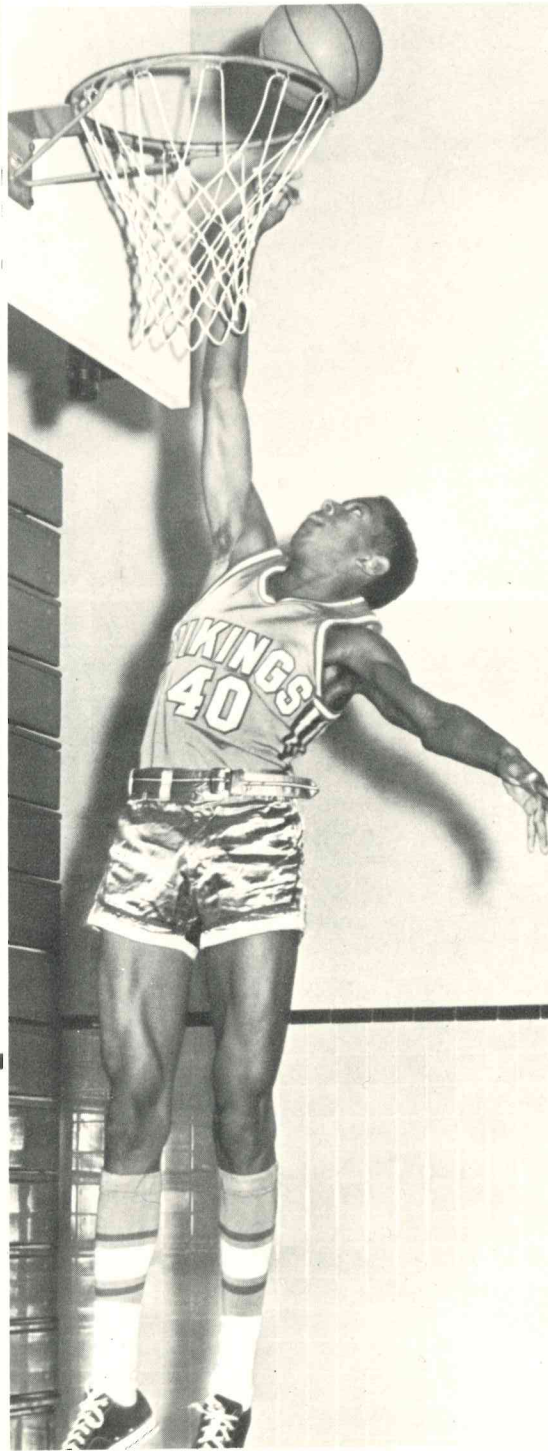

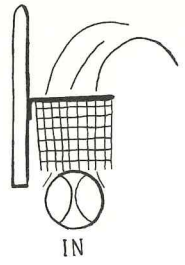

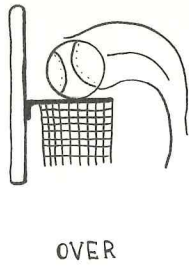

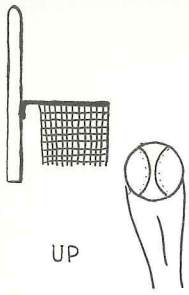

Rodney Hunter (20) awaits signals from Jerry Jones (10) who is carrying the ball down the court. In a game which was filled with many unexpected difficulties, Jones handled his responsibilities well.

Team captain Anderson Clary rounds out his basketball career at Huntington with an outstanding record in shooting.

Jerry Jones, senior, takes time out at a practice session to demonstrate his dribbling talent.

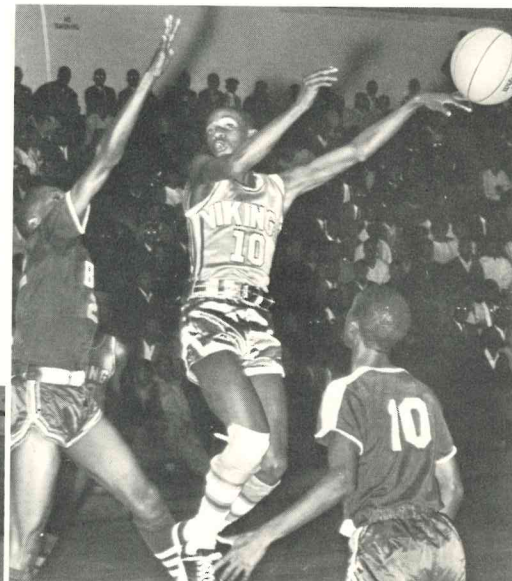

Harold Hatchett, Jerry Jones (10), and Anderson Clary vie for the free ball in a "pocket full of action" against B. T. Washington High.

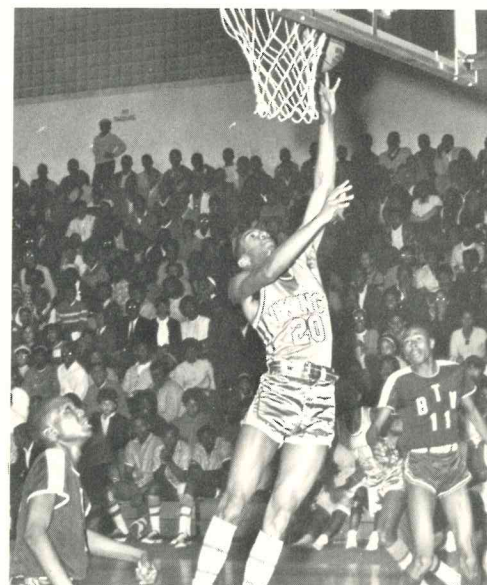

OPENING NIGHT

The Vikings began their season with a 83-76 victory over Booker T. Highlighting the opening game was the dedication of the new gymnasium, featuring a scroll presentation to Mr. Scales by Edward Christian.

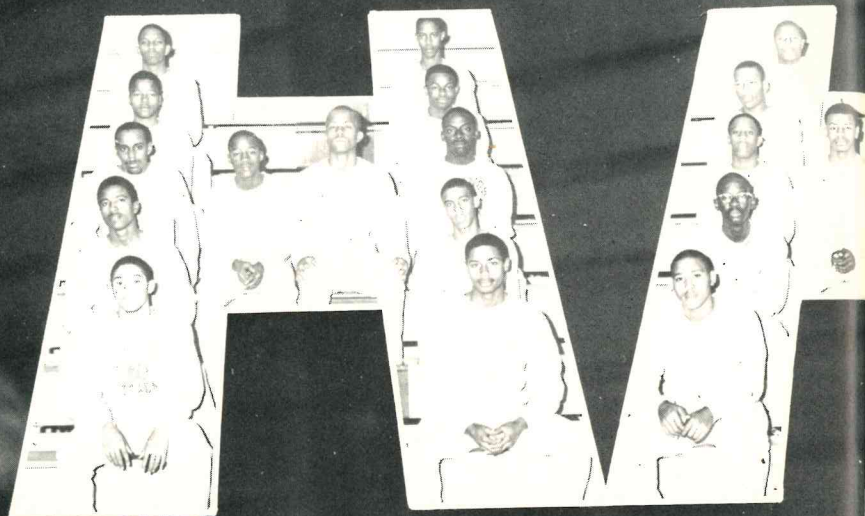

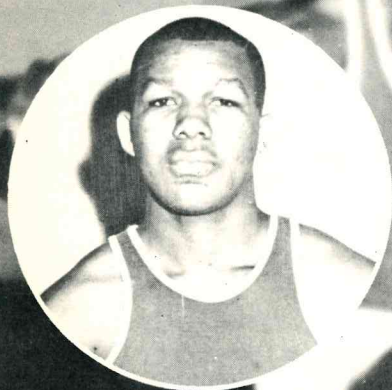

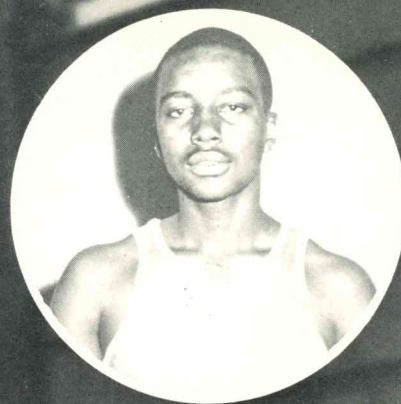

Jerry Jones takes to the air for two points with some rugged competition at his back. (Above)

Moments after sinking the ball in the basket, Jerry returns for another two points. (Left)

What looks to be a smash in the face of his Booker T. opponent is an illusion created by the camera. Walter Bowser goes up for two points -- and that's no illusion.

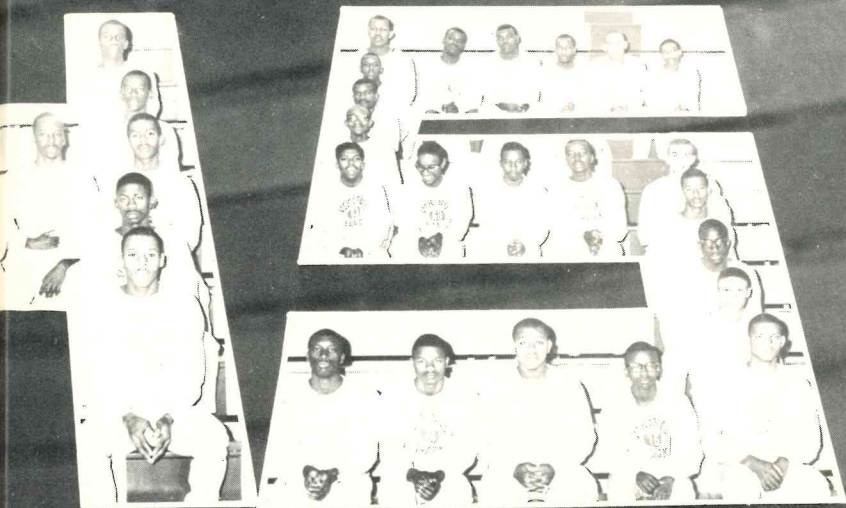

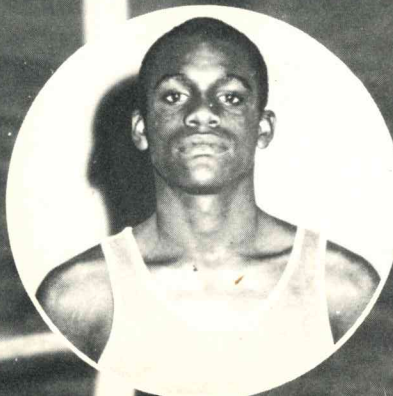

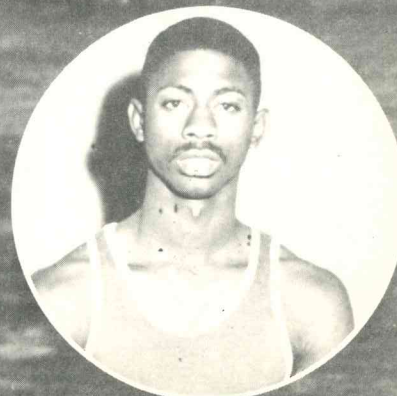

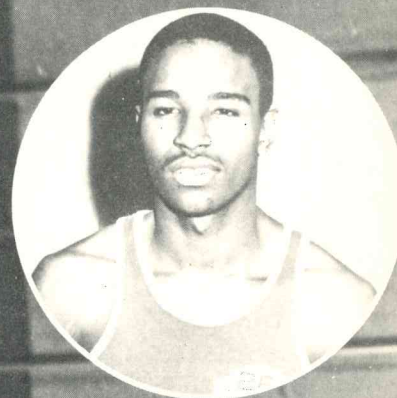

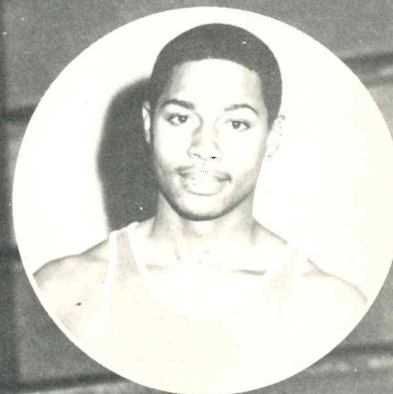

Unhindered, Rodney Hunter, a senior, baffles his foes with a quick lay-up which created a sudden roar from the crowd.
